LOOK OUT FOR BALLOONS RACE COURSE MAY TAKE THEM OVER CITY OF LA CROSSE

ROUTE UP RIVER TO WISCONSIN, EAST

STRONG SOUTH WIND MIGHT
BRING FLYERS HERE

START AT 4 O'CLOCK P. M.

Great Crowds Assemble in St. Louis
to Witness the International
Air Race.

La Crosse may have the rare opportunity of viewing the balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup. The race starts from St. Louis this afternoon, and the direction to be taken is northward along the Mississippi to the Wisconsin line, and then northeast.

Provided the wind maintains its present direction, from the south, and the velocity remains the same, the balloons may be carried past the turning at the southern boundary of Wisconsin, and brought to La Crosse. The Wisconsin boundary is 121 miles from La Crosse. Dubuque, Ia., is opposite the southern line, and this city is 121 miles distant from La Crosse. An air line, such as would be taken by a balloon in flight, would decrease the distance to over 100 miles.

Weather observer E. C. Thompson, after consulting the wind gauge at the weather observatory, expressed opinion that the balloons might be carried as far northward as La Crosse. "If the wind continues from the south, La Crosse may have an opportunity of seeing the balloons," said Mr. Thompson this afternoon. "The wind is from the south now, and if it is the same from here to St. Louis, the chances are excellent."

The government sent out a dispatch this afternoon, giving the route expected to be taken by the balloons into Canada.

It is upon the turning point and a strong wind that the chances of La Crosse for seeing the balloons depends. If the wind dies down, or is in a different direction near Dubuque, Ia., La Crosse will probably lose the opportunity of seeing the race.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—The balloonists entered in the international race expect to land in Canada. The aeronauts arrived at this opinion after reading the government's special balloon forecast. Up the Mississippi as far as the Wisconsin line, then northeast across Lake Michigan to

GOVERNMENT FIRES BIG GUN AT THE TOBACCO TRUST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The government took another step today in its warfare against the trusts by attaching, under orders from Attorney General Bonaparte, a $7,000 shipment of leaf tobacco consigned from Durham, N. C., to the British-American Tobacco company of Great Britain. The shipment was attached at Norfolk, the action being taken under section 6 of the Sherman anti-trust law, which authorizes the seizure and condemnation by the government of the property of any trust while in interstate or foreign commerce.

CZAR'S HAND FALLS ON CHICAGO MAN

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—William English Walling, his wife, and his sister-in-law, Miss Rose Strunsky, were arrested here Sunday night by a force of gendarmes who surprised them while at dinner at the Hotel de France in company with a party of Finns. Walling had just returned to St. Petersburg from the socialist congresses in Germany and France. He had also spent several months in Geneva, where he frequented the headquarters of the Russian revolutionists with whom he is intimate.

Walling sent a cablegram requesting that government pressure be brought to bear on the American embassy at St. Petersburg for assistance.

Mr. Walling, who is a Chicago man, was arrested in the Russian capital in January, 1906, because of his alleged interest in the revolutionary movement, but was released soon afterwards.

FISH WINS FIGHT FOR I. C. CONTROL

POSTPONEMENT OF MEETING TO
DEC. 5 MEANS VICTORY

HARRIMAN DOES NOT TALK

Is Grumpy to Reporters and Says He
Has "Lost Interest" in the
I. C. Conflict.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Counsel for Harriman today formally admitted the defeat of their plans to control the annual stockholders meeting of the Illinois Central without the aid of the stock tied up by injunction. At a meeting lasting until 11 o'clock this morning counsel representing both sides signed an agreement by which the stockholders meeting was postponed until Dec. 18. This will mean a temporary and possibly an ultimate victory for Fish, as Fish claims to control the majority of the enjoined shares. The fight now goes to the courts.

Harriman "Lost Interest."
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Telegrams received by friends of Stuyvesant Fish today say his control of the proxies for the control of the Illinois Central is now assured.

Harriman, who returned here over the New York Central yesterday, when asked for his opinion of the Illinois Central fight, said:

"I have lost interest in it."
The reporter remarked that the dispatches from the seat of war

Harriman's president of the Illinois Central who will likely be deposed in the probable event of Fish wresting the control from Harriman.

placed Mr. Fish 38,000 or 40,000 votes in the lead. Then Mr. Harriman said:

"I never had much interest in it any way."

"Do you think that the result will depend upon the decision of the courts as to the right of the Union Pacific and Mutual Life Insurance company to vote their large blocks of the stock?"

"I suppose so," said Mr. Harriman, and then he added:

"You know a great deal more about it than I do anyway."

COMMITTEE TO VIEW PROPERTY

On Wednesday morning, the assessments committee of the county board of supervisors, accompanied by Supervisor of Assessments J. E. Keizer, will leave La Crosse on an inspection trip about the county. The assessments committee consists of John Kindley, chairman; Bert Nelson, Ray Lewis, Peter Lehnen and William Wolfe.

The committee will inspect various pieces of property, skipping here and there, to determine the basis used by the assessors in their work, and also to determine if an equitable value has been placed on the property.

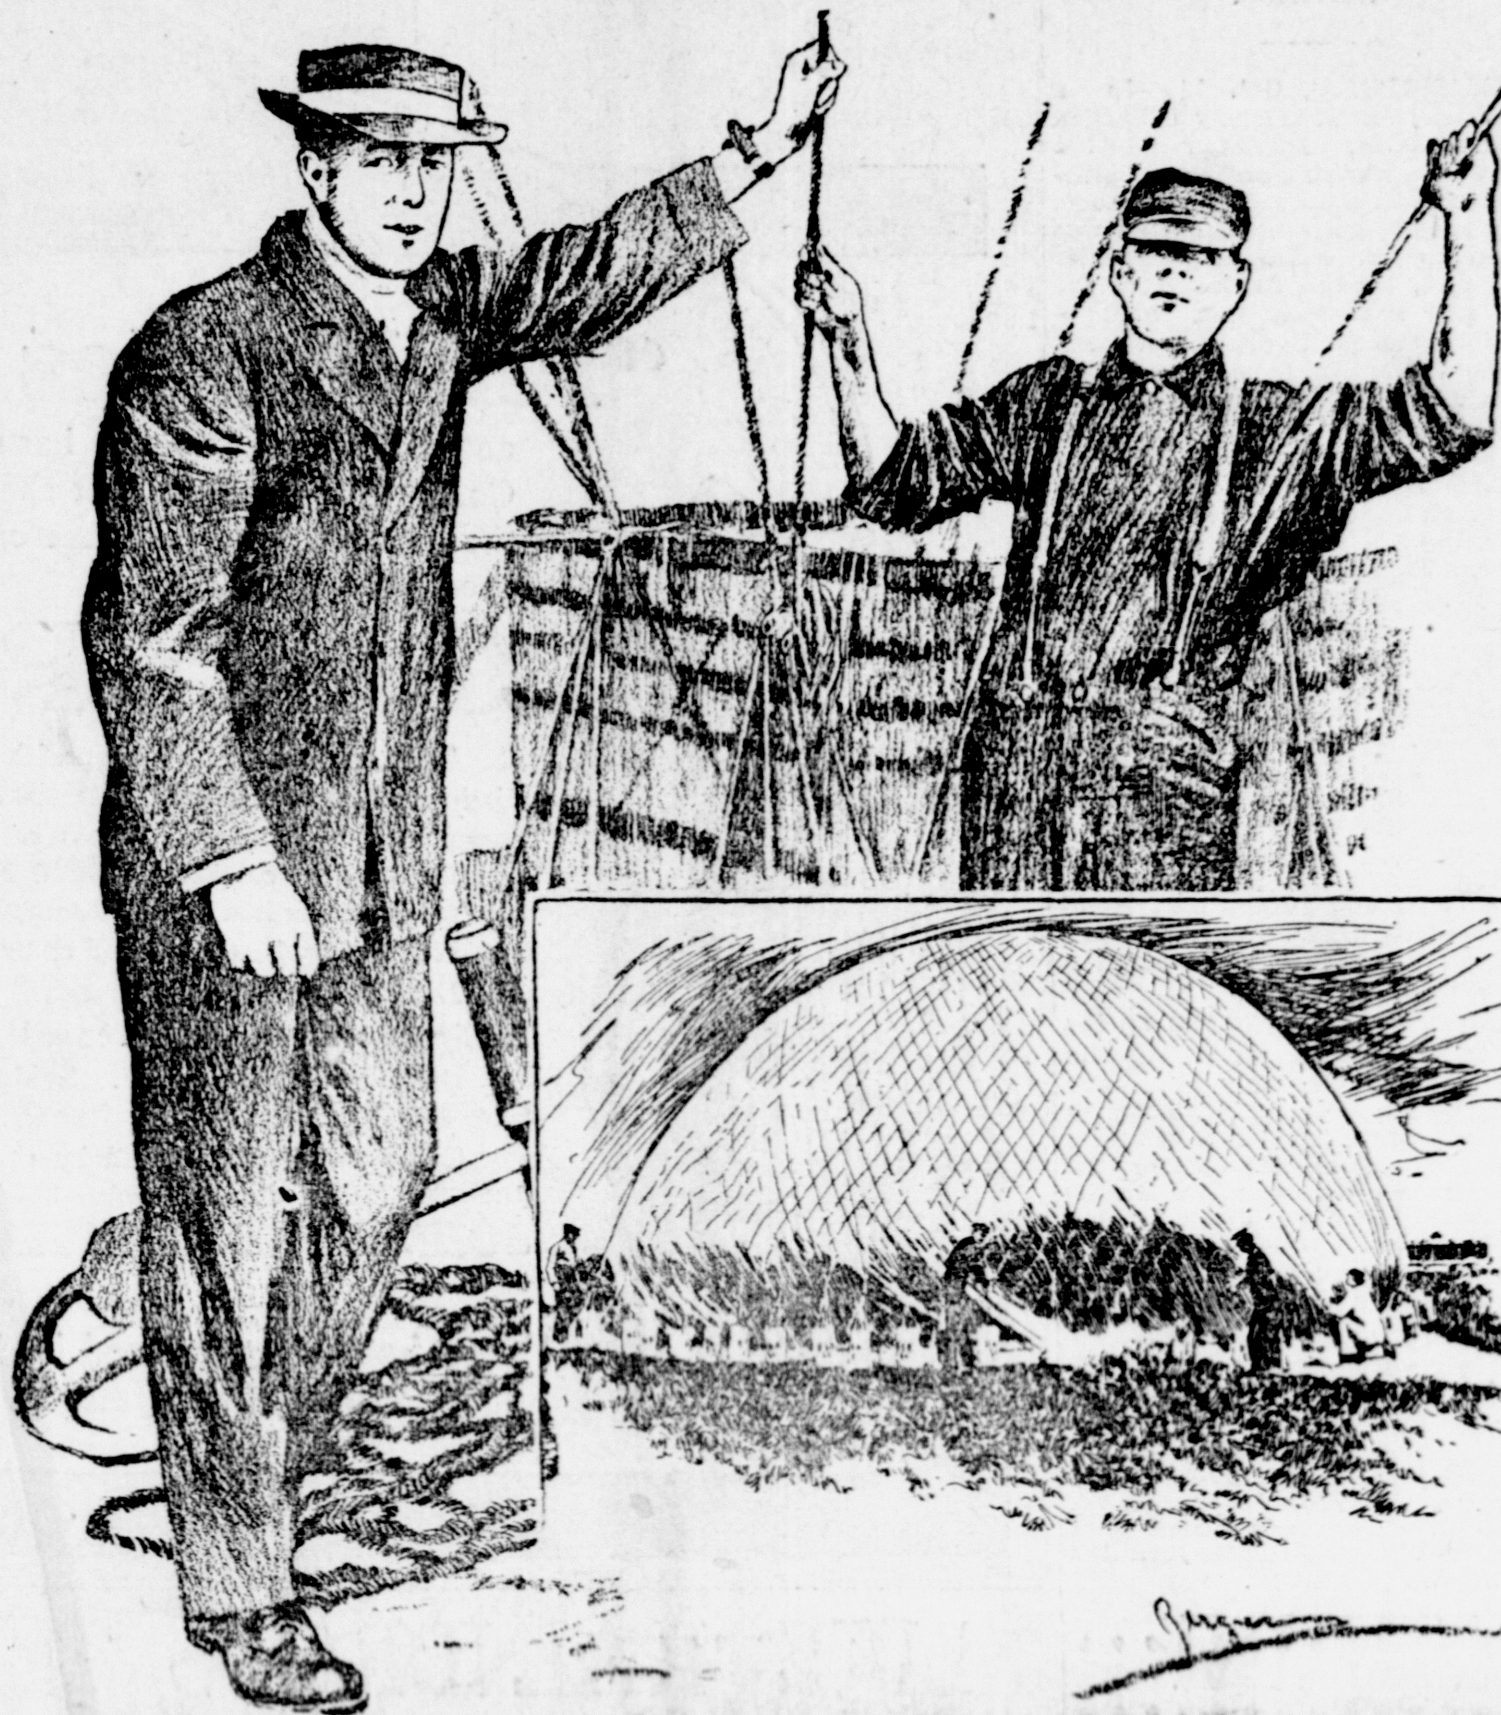

It is expected three or four days will be consumed in the trip. Later another may be made.

A report on the findings of the committee will be made to the county board at the meeting on Nov. 12.

LA CROSSE MAY SEE THIS BALLOON

CAPTAIN CHARLES DE F. CHANDLER AND THE ST. LOUIS BALLOON RACE.

THE United States army is much interested in the outcome of the international balloon race in St. Louis for the Bennett cup because of the fact that it has two entries, Major H. B. Hersey and Captain Charles de Forest Chandler, whose respective balloons are the United States, in which Lieutenant F. P. Lahm, U. S. A., won the James Gordon Bennett cup in Paris a year ago, and the America. The third American balloon is the St. Louis, piloted by Alan R. Hawley. Germany, England and France entered balloons for the $2,500 Bennett cup, which is for the longest flight and which must be won five times by one country before it becomes the country's property. Lieutenant Lahm covered 402 miles when he captured the trophy.

TREMPEALEAU OUT FOR SENATORSHIP

RETIREMENT OF MORRIS OPENS
OLD BURNING QUESTION

STRONG FOR JOHN J. ESCH

But People Think They Should Get
Toga in Return for Loyalty.

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—What will Trempealeau county do about that state senatorship? That is a question that is going the rounds of the politicians, and while it is generally conceded that Trempealeau county will have very little to say about the disposition of the senatorship if La Crosse county desires the honor, the fact that the smaller county has a voice in the matter makes the choosing of a senator worthy of consideration.

When the old convention system was in vogue, Trempealeau county had a voice in the matter only by the good grace of the powers that be (or were) in the larger county, and it is pretty much the same now, only there is a chance in the selection now in the popular vote of a primary scrimmage. With one candidate in this county and a dozen in La Crosse county, a favorite son up in this neck of the woods might

NO BEARS IN THE CANEBRAKES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The horrifying charge is made by a southern congressman that President Roosevelt's bear hunt in the Louisiana canebrakes is the most stupendous and glaring piece of "nature-faking" that has been indulged in by even the worst of the type whom the president has denounced.

This southern authority affirms that there are no bears in Louisiana; have not been any there for 100 years; that what the president is gunning for and what he has really shot, if he has shot any large black object during the present hunt, is simply a very large type of very dark brown coon, known only to the canebrakes of that region of the south.

VICKSBURG HEARS PRESIDENT TODAY

ARRIVES AT TOWN AND RECEIVES
GREAT OVATION

WILL HUNT BEAR AGAIN

Accepts Ashville Invitation—Story of How Executive Shot
Bruin Is Told.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation from J. L. Alexander to be his guest at Oxway Inn, Sapphire county, and hunt bear in the Blue Ridge mountains. No date has been fixed. Dolph Wilson, who has a record of killing nineteen bears, will probably be the guide.

At Vicksburg, Oct. 21.—When President Roosevelt arrived here today the city was bright and gay in his honor. The principal streets were a mass of color and pictures of the president were to be seen on all sides. The president arrived at Delta, directly across the river from Vicksburg, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He was met by a reception committee of 100 citizens on board the steamboat Belle of the Bends. A drive over the city and through the National cemetery ended at the court house square, where President Roosevelt delivered an address.

All morning crowds of excursionists swarmed to the city to join in the welcome to the president. The river trip was picturesque and the president was delighted with the drive about the city.

The president will leave on a special on the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, going direct to Memphis, where his train will be transferred to the Louisville and Nashville railroad. The president is scheduled to arrive in Nashville at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

It is said that prior to his departure from Stamboul the president was vastly pleased upon being told by Guide Metcalf that his party had killed three-fifths of all the bears in the Bayou Tensas and Bear Lake region.

There were five bears in the section. Three of them were brought in as trophies of the case.

President Roosevelt thus summed up the case.

ELKINS LAW MAY BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

OIL TRUST WILL TAKE LANDS
DECISION TO COURT

SIMS PREPARING HIS ANSWER

If Law Is Declared Unconstitutional,
All Fines Must Be Returned by
the Government

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—United States Attorney Sims is preparing today a reply to the bills of exceptions filed by Standard Oil in the case in which the Standard was fined 29 million dollars. Nearly one hundred and fifty assignments of error have been made by the defendants. The latest date for filing is Dec. 2. Attorney Miller, for the oil trust, informed Sims that if the appeal to the circuit court is defeated he will take the case before the state supreme court on constitutional questions. If the latter plan is carried out and the points raised are sustained, the Elkins law may be invalidated. In that case the government will be forced to return all the fines that have been collected under it.

"The present trouble with the work is," said the attorney, "that we go to a convention. Everyone is enthusiastic and shouts for the river, but when the convention is over the delegates return to their homes and resume their daily grind, and the only ones who remember there was a river convention are the officers of the association, and, alone, they are able to do but little."

Alderman Keller expressed the opinion that the La Crosse delegates would leave for the return trip Wednesday night. Although the Moline officials would undoubtedly have something in the way of entertainment prepared Mr. Keller said that he, for one, wanted to get back to business as soon as possible.

ST. PAUL MEETS BIG LOSS IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—One of the most important buildings of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul shops at West Milwaukee, the large planing mill upon which all other shops depend, was destroyed by fire last night. About 150 men worked in the mill, the loss of which comes at a time when a car shortage has been taxing its capacity to the utmost. The loss of the building itself is the smallest item.

The loss, including $30,000 worth of tools belonging to employees, will amount to $125,000. The company carries its own insurance.

Commissioner H. J. Beckwith of the board of public works, left this evening for Burlington, where he will visit for a few days with relatives, after which he will go to St. Louis and return via Pittsburg, Kan., where he will also remain for a few days.

WIFE OF CHARITY
WORKER IS DEAD

Early Sunday morning Mrs. W. W. Jones, 222 South Tenth street, one of the pioneer women of the city, died of heart failure. She was the widow of W. W. Jones, former superintendent of the associated charities here, and was a well known pioneer woman of La Crosse.

Mrs. Jones had been out to dinner on Saturday and feeling well apparently. Sunday morning others in the house heard her rapping on the floor of her room with a cane she kept for the purpose, and going to her found her gasping for breath. A physician was summoned, but she died within a few moments.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the Congregational church of which she was a member.

SPECIAL COACH HITCHED TO
MIDNIGHT BURLINGTON

KELLER EXPECTS PROGRESS

Says Organization is not Perfect Yet,
But When Inland People Are Interested Result Will Be Easier

Delegates to the Waterways convention at Moline, which opens a two-days' session tomorrow morning, will leave here at midnight tonight on the Burlington. The local delegates are Aldermen G. A. Keller, Houska and Fred Goddard. H. J. Hirschheimer, one of the delegates being unable to attend and being substituted by Mr. Goddard.

There will be two special sleepers attached to the limited tonight which will convey the delegates between Minneapolis and down river points to Moline and the La Crosse representatives will join the party here.

Nothing Definite Yet.

"Most of the time will be taken up with a discussion of ways and means," "I suppose," said Delegate Keller today. "The organization is not perfect yet and there may be no great results accomplished this time, but I believe that within a couple of years this organization will be in a position to demand things and have them done."

TO RESCUE OF BANKS

FINANCIAL CRISIS IS PAST

Heinze's Betrayal Said to Have Been Caught in Wreck He
Precipitated

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed today against Otto C. and Arthur Heinze, and Max Schultze, partners in Otto's firm, by H. H. Robotham, Leo Wise and Frank A. Larnabee, assignees respectively for the firms of Gross & Kleeburg, E. V. Brokaw, Herzfeld & Stern. Their claims aggregate $325,000.

Ten million dollars was pledged Sunday by twenty banks representing one billion two hundred and fifty million dollars, to aid the financial institutions that are in trouble due to the Heinze crash.

The panic cloud which loomed large and exceedingly dark over the financial district Saturday and which gave tens of thousands of depositors a nervous Sunday, was dissipated by a statement of not more than 100 words which was issued with the authority of the entire clearing house committee.

"We have found the banks under criticism to be solvent," declare the clearing house committeemen, and the reason for disastrous runs is removed.

"We have decided to render them assistance to meet their deposits," is the still further declaration, which assures the banks weathering any storm.

The three banks which have been particularly examined by the clearing house committee and found in every way solvent are:

The Mercantile National bank.

The National Bank of America.

The New Amsterdam bank, Thirty-ninth street and Broadway.

New President for Mercantile.

The Mercantile National bank accepted the resignation of F. Augustus Heinze as president, and Seth M.

160 ACRES BRING $7,000 TODAY

Seven thousand dollars was paid today for a tract of 160 acres of land located in the town of Onalaska.

The land has been owned by Wesley F. Whitbeck, who sold it to John and William Coady. A transfer was to have been made which would comprise a tract over three times that size, but the parties finally concluded to buy but 160 acres.

The land is some of the best in this section of the county and was therefore sold at a good price. The deed was filed by Esch and Winter today.

NO CHANGE IN
"CUB'S" LINEUPCHANCE SAYS HE HAS GOT A WINNING BUNCH

SOX WILL BE ALTERED SOME

Retirement of Jones and Isbell is a Hard Blow to the Former World ChampionsCHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20.—Writing in the Record-Herald, C. A. Hughes says:

"Chicago's world-beating cubs will play the game next year with precisely the same line-up they used this year, unless some unforeseen accident happens between now and the opening of the season of 1908. Naturally, there is nothing for Chance to do but stand pat. His team proved to be the best, so why paint the lily? That doesn't mean a sale of a player or two or a trade of some kind won't take place, but the odds, if any are made, won't take away any of the regular players."

"On the other hand, Chicago's ex-champions of the world seem to require some patching up and tinkering with before they are ready to take the field to battle for the pennant next season. In the first place there seems to be no doubt of Jones' intention to quit the game. He made a flat-footed and unqualified declaration to that effect at Jackson, Miss., last spring during the training season and never has wavered from his intentions."

"Filling the place left by Jones will be a difficult matter. No South Side fan will believe that there ever was any manager quite so clever and capable as the wonderful center fielder. His absence will be a two-ply blow for the Sox. His astonishing feats in center field will be missed, and his superb handling of the ball players will be missed and mourned."

"Losing their greatest ball player and a most capable leader is tough luck. Perhaps Jones' successor, whoever he may turn out to be, will develop some startling genius in the art of handling a ball club, but he has a hard row to hoe if he expects to equal Jones' record. In the four seasons that Jones managed the Sox he finished first once and supplemented that feat by winning the world's championship; twice he finished third, with a chance for first place until the last week of the season; the other time he ran second. To beat that somebody has some stiff work cut out for him."

STAGG'S TEAM TAKE
OPENING GAME WELL

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 21.—On the sunlit gridiron of Illinois field the maroon championship contenders of A. Alonzo Stagg triumphed decisively over the orange and blue of the University of Illinois Saturday afternoon by the score of 42 to 6. It was a notable occasion for the Midway heroes, who brightened even their previous record of 1907 and brilliantly approached the Staggian ideal of speed and class in their attacking rushes.

Chicago gained more than the glory that comes in piling up a one-sided score on a team already beaten in the final stages of the battle. Co-ordinated team work and finish flashed out time and again in a style to delight the student rooters and alumni who had followed the worthies of Marshall field to the down-state camp of the enemy and in the early season polish of the team the Chicago delegation found its greatest joy.

Spartans Play Locals off Their Feet in First Half, But Recovering,
Highs Nearly Take Game

The La Crosse High school football team met their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Sparta High school eleven on the latter's grounds Saturday, being defeated by the score of 11 to 6. The game was exciting and closely contested by both teams. The Sparta boys rushed the La Crosse team off their feet during the first few minutes of play and succeeded in getting two touchdowns before the local players settled down. In the second half of the game La Crosse turned the tables and played the Spartans to a standstill, better training showing out in the way the La Crosse eleven played to the last.

The game was called at 2:30. Sparta kicking to La Crosse to the 50 yard line. La Crosse fumbled, giving the ball to Sparta who after an attempt at the line tried a drop kick by Jefferson, but the kick went wide and Byrne got the ball and returned it five yards. A forward pass netted 5 yards, but on the next attempt La Crosse fumbled giving the ball to Sparta on the La Crosse 30 yard line. Sparta then took a brace and went around the end for a gain and two more plays brought the ball to the yard line. Jefferson went over for the first score, but failed at an easy goal. Score, Sparta 5, La Crosse 0.

Trick Plays Costly.
La Crosse then kicked to Sparta to Jefferson, who returned the ball 15 yards after two attempts at the line. Sparta kicked to Tourtellotte, who was downed in his tracks by the fast Sparta ends. La Crosse was unable to gain and resorted to punting. Sparta returning the punt to the La Crosse 5 yard line. Tourtellotte then took 3 yards on a straight back and Byrne attempted a quarter back kick, Jefferson getting the ball on the 25 yard line and dodged his way through the crowds for the second touchdown, kicking goal and making the score 11 to 0 in Sparta's favor.

Place Kick Fails.
La Crosse kicked to Sparta, but the local boys settled down and held, forcing Sparta to punt. After several exchanges of punts La Crosse had the ball on the Sparta 25 yard line and Dahlgren failed at a place kick. Sparta blocking the kick. After several punts and see-sawing time was called with the ball in Sparta's possession on their own 40 yard line.

La Crosse Settles Down.
The second half opened with La Crosse kicking to Sparta. A fake kick was attempted, but Sparta regained the ball and after attempting to gain through the line punted to Tourtellotte, who fumbled, but La Crosse again gained the ball and made a decided stand. Larson went around the end for several gains, assisted by line bucks by Tourtellotte and Dahlgren and brought the ball to the Sparta 15 yard line. Jack Dahlgren recovering the ball and taking it under the goal posts. He also fumbled, but Brindley downed the ball giving La Crosse the first score. Capt. Dahlgren kicked goal, making the score 11 to 6.

Headwork Looses Victory.
Sparta kicked to La Crosse, who with steady gains brought the ball to the Sparta 25 yard line and Capt. Dahlgren attempted another place kick, but the ball fell short and rolled behind the goal. Mueller failed to down the ball, losing the chance for a certain tie and probable victory. Time was called before Sparta kicked out. Final score, Sparta 11, La Crosse 6.

The line up for the two teams was as follows:

CALEDONIA WINS
FOOTBALL GAME

CALEDONIA, Minn., Oct. 21.—(Special).—The football season opened here Saturday with a game between Rushford High school and Caledonia High school. Caledonia High won after an exciting contest of two twenty-minute halves by a score of 5 to 0. The locals have a strong bunch and will make a strong bid for the championship of this section of the state.

MICHIGAN WINS,
BUT LOOKS SLOWSHORT OF THE SPEED OF THE FORMER SEASONS

WABASH'S MISPLAYS DO IT

Leave Victory by Score of 22 to 0
an Easy Matter for the Wolverines

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—In a game that was stubbornly contested in both halves, Michigan defeated Wabash at Washington Park Saturday afternoon by a score of 22 to 0. The work of the Michigan team was not up to the standard of former years, and, though its members are large and somewhat fast, most of their tricks were simple and Wabash had no difficulty in solving them, and in the end checkmating them.

Wabash was outweighed twenty pounds to the man, but in the face of this handicap put up one of the bravest struggles that Michigan has had to cope with in many a day. Quarterback Hargrave did not confine himself to straight football at all times, but varied the style of play and Sohl's punts took all of Michigan's wind. Sprow at center played big Schultz of the Michigan team to a standstill.

A fumble by Sohl on Wabash's thirty-yard line, where he received a punt near the end of the first half alone, enabled Michigan to score. Following the fumble Yost's machine took a brace and finally sent Hammond over the line. Allerdice kicked goal and the first half ended with the score 6 to 0.

Michigan was lucky to run up the score in the second half. Magoffin broke through Wabash's line and with good interference ran thirty yards for a touchdown, and Allerdice kicked goal. Michigan worked the ball to the two-yard line and Magoffin failed to make distance, being downed on the one-yard line. Nargave's punt was blocked and fallen on by Loell, and this resulted in another touchdown for Michigan.

Michigan's weight was now beginning to tell on the "little giants" whenever Michigan started toward the Wabash goal. Graham kicked a nice goal from the twenty-five yard line, making the score: Michigan 22, Wabash 0. Time was called with the ball on Wabash's fifteen-yard line in Michigan's possession.

CAPRON SCORES TWO FIELD GOALS
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 21.—Nebraska went down in defeat before the Minnesotans Saturday by a score of 8 to 5. Capron's two goals from the field saved the day for the gophers. Minnesota showed wonderful improvement in its defensive work. The weather was ideal for football and the field in excellent shape.

The star feature of the game was Captain Weller's famous run of fifty yards for a touchdown. When the Nebraska captain crossed the line the rooters of both sides yelled themselves hoarse in an enthusiastic cheer of approval. The ball was set on a fumble. Elud-

AN IMPORTANT CONVENTION.

Tomorrow there begins at Moline the annual convention of the upper Mississippi waterways association. There has been one great river convention this fall, but it had mainly to do with the establishment of an avenue of traffic from Chicago to the Mississippi, thence to the Gulf and into the seas. Upper river towns and cities are interested in that because it means a waterway from La Crosse, for instance, to Chicago. But the upper river is immensely more interested in securing river improvements from St. Paul to St. Louis, than from that city south, for if we have no channel or other means of transportation in the upper river, the Chicago-to-the-Gulf passage will avail us nothing.

There is a diversity of opinion as to what should be done with the river up here. It is a question not to be hastily answered, for the subject is not illuminated by records of applied science. That which is a problem with us is a problem everywhere, and men are digging into the pit and pith of the question. The convention this year should seek all possible information, should hear all suggestions, and should provide for a fair exploitation of the matter.

Judge Ray S. Reed, newly appointed waterway commissioner in Wisconsin, is now in Europe making a study of the methods employed there, and seeking some practical solution of the problem. That he will not be ready to present the results of his researches to this meeting is regrettable, but that investigation should precede action is certain, and in view of the improbability of congress making any large appropriation this year, the wait will be worth while.

WAR, OR POLITICS.

Strange alliances in politics are not infrequent, but none has occasioned more comment lately than the recent political pact between the Roosevelt machine in New York state and the Hearst Independence league.

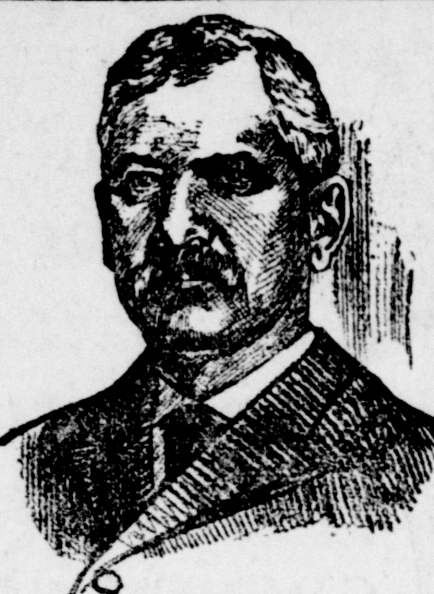

Roosevelt has been, above all things, "anti-Hearst." So also has Hearst been "anti-Roosevelt." That they came together in New York may be due to a belief that a mutual advantage would result, or to the misguided zeal of Parsons, Roosevelt's machine leader, during the absence of the president in the wilds of Mississippi. And, to go further, it has been unkindly suggested that the president cut himself off from civilization expressly to let a few things happen which he wanted to have happen, but for which he did not want to be held accountable.

Now comes another strange thing—an editorial in Hearst's Examiner, signed by Mr. Hearst himself, supporting the president's naval policy. The article says:

"It is difficult for highly civilized, peace-loving American citizens to realize that there is a probability of war being forced upon the country, but a careful consideration of exact facts will convince intelligent men that such a probability exists."

"When the situation is understood there can be nothing left for reason-

MEN OF NOTE

Charles Emory Smith

Charles Emory Smith, postmaster general of the United States from 1898 until 1902 and publisher of the Philadelphia Press, was born at Mansfield, Conn., on February 18, 1842, and graduated from Union college in 1861. Mr. Smith married Miss Ella Huntley on June 30, 1863. In 1865 he accepted the editorship of the Albany (N. Y.) Express and retained this position until 1870, when he became connected with the Albany Journal where he remained for ten years as its leading director. Since 1880 Mr. Smith has been prominent as the publisher of the Philadelphia Press. Before Mr. Smith was made a cabinet official he was sent to Russia as the minister from this country.

ing human beings to do but to make adequate preparation for war, especially as that is apparently the one way in which there lies any hope of preventing war.

"The purpose of this article is not to alarm, but merely to draw public attention to a serious situation and attempt to dispel partisan prejudices in the consideration of a matter of such vital importance to the nation."

"To begin with, it should be remembered that Japan has grown great by war, and has become a sort of pirate among nations. She has emerged from each war with large accessions of territory, and she now regards war as a profitable profession, and looks upon the United States much as the buccanniers of the sixteenth century looked upon the peaceful and ponderous gold-laden galleons of Spain.

"The United States offers much opportunity for plunder, and Japan believes she would be greatly advantaged by war with America.

"There is, therefore, greed to provoke war, and in addition there is the pride of victory in her recent contests, and the irritation that must arise from the inevitable conflict on our Western shore of two civilizations fundamentally different and absolutely irreconcilable.

"War will not come through any dispute over the Philippines, although Japan is eager for the Philippines and fully realizes that the possession of those islands would almost double her power and make her almost twice as formidable an antagonist for this country as she now is.

"War will not come from the expansion of this country in the East, but from expansion of Japan in the West.

"War may be averted, if this country retains Hawaii and the Philippines, builds an adequate fleet to protect them, and confines Japan to her own shores; but the sale or cession of Hawaii and the Philippines to Japan would merely extend Japan's empire to our own doors, make that nation more confident and insolent, and make war not only more difficult to avoid, but more difficult to wage.

"This newspaper declares itself heartily in support of the Administration's present policy regarding the navy and Japan, but reserves the right to say that when President Roosevelt interfered to prevent Russia from taming Japan he delegated that particular piece of work to the United States of America."

Mr. Hearst's reservation in which he castigates the president for having sought to compel peace between Russia and Japan is natural enough, for unqualified approval of anything republican would be contrary to his habits. For some reason he has felt impelled to stand for the president's naval plans. Why?

The first, and partisan, view is that Hearst knows that labor is so strong for exclusion of Orientals that it favors anything seeming to be intended for that end. A Pacific coast navy means to labor that Chinese and Japanese labor is to be excluded. Therefore, all hail the navy program!

But there may be another reason. Hearst says he is convinced that trouble with Japan is imminent. Roosevelt says peace is certain. Both are for a great navy to protect the Pacific coast. Policy may impel President Roosevelt to assume an attitude of assurance that peace will continue which he does not in fact feel. Hearst, nothing tied by the diplomatic problems of a hostile administration, may see the same things, and say so. Somehow, one finds it difficult to conclude that in arriving at a common conclusion about the Japanese problem, these two men have traveled by different roads of reasoning. Peace, by all means. But be ready. Down in his heart, we believe, Theodore Roosevelt has said this.

Don't be surprised if you catch an agent in a lie. Every agent is a liar, of course.

JUST LIFE

The Stringfiend.

(Respectfully dedicated to Franklin A. R. X. Y. Z. Van Meter and the distinguished local correspondent of the New York World.)

The String Fiend sat in his easy chair, In the dusty room that was his lair, No morning glories bloomed without, No robin warbled songs devout.

The String Fiend's purse was as flat as beer, That has stood while the gang has stopped to cheer; His knees were bagged and his waist was thin, The String Fiend certainly needed Tin.

There was no news that he could send out, He felt his fate was the "lemon" route, When he spied a clipping on the floor, That the wind blew in through the open door.

He picked it up, and it told a tale, That would make girls weep and strong men quail; It all had happened a week before In a country town, where a week's no more Than a minute or two in the city's strife, And the people all live the simple life; So he picked it up and began to think, To study and patch on the missing link.

The clipping said that a man named Brown Had shot his rival, Sam Jones, down, Because of a girl that they both admired, Shot him, and the town was fired.

Not with flames or fire-bug's brand, But anger had spread through the country land, And the villagers cursed in an angry mood, And said Jones should hang right where he stood.

It naturally followed, the String Fiend thought That beauty must be where such havoc was wrought, And one of the men must a villain be, And the other a man of integrity.

It also was reasonable to suppose That the villain was swarthy and wore dark clothes, And when he had tried to escape the mob, The man who had caught him could be no slob,

But instead was a man who was full of tricks, And had worked a game with adventure mixt; And the fight in the dark, he could see it plain, He could even see the prisoner's chain.

And to think that the newspapers on his string Had gone for a week without knowing a thing Of the story he'd got by the four-winds route, He would call a boy, and he'd send it out.

So he called a "boy" and he lit his pipe, And he dreamed a dream that was rich and ripe, And as he dreamed his fingers flew, And the typewriter ground out the story true.

He started in with a touching tale; The heart of the String Fiend did not quail, When he told of the mob in the bon-fire's glare, And the trembling wretch who was standing there.

But when half through he got a hunch, That made his story a real hot lunch, It occurred to him that it really might be That the girl would come and set him free.

And so she did with flashing eyes, With a real sharp knife and proper cries, And cut the rope from the slayer's neck, And yelled, "I love him still, by Heck!"

And the String Fiend told how the crowd dispersed, Impelled by some force, though they softly cursed; And before they recovered the man had robbed The bank and fled, and the town was "jobbed."

They went to the home of the suffering maid, And found she had gone with her board unpaid; She had been in town but a week or more, And she'd helped the man with some jobs before.

Well, the String Fiend's pipe went out just then, But he thought that the dream should be worth a "ten," So he hustled the boy to have it "wired," But his "check" next day said this: "You're fired."

SPOTLIGHTS

"A jumble of nonsense adorned with pretty girls," is the rather catchy manner in which the Monte Carlo Girls Big Burlesque Co., the attraction at the La Crosse theatre tonight, is billed. Few burlesque shows contain so many novelties in the burlesque line and none compare in the manner of splendid show girls. The "boys" always look forward to the coming of this attraction and they are always sure to get a good run for their money. Two breezy burlesques, "Military Maids," and "The Female Seminary," will afford much diversion and serve to introduce a handsome chorus of young ladies who can sing and dance in the most approved style.

While the many pretty girls are the principal features the vaudeville portion of the entertainment will also be first class. Among those to appear are Trueheart, Dillon and Burke, singers, comedians and dancers; Lew Golden, Hebrew impersonator; Vera Harte, operatic soprano soloist; John P. Burke, eccentric Irish comedian; Annie Golden, dainty singing soubrette; Eva Sullivan and May Burns, novelty entertainers.

It is a foregone conclusion that a big crowd will greet the Monte Carlo Girls merry entertainers.

"Under Southern Skies." The mere announcement that "Under Southern Skies" is to be seen at La Crosse theatre on tomorrow night, will no doubt be sufficient to draw a large audience to witness it. Since last seen here "Under Southern Skies" has been played over an extensive territory, everywhere meeting with great success. Its beautiful story appeals to all classes of theatre-goers and the Hallowe'en celebration delights everyone who sees it. An entirely new arrangement of songs and dances has been made for this season for the Hallowe'en party and no end of fun and enjoyment will be provided for the audience by this feature of the play. An entirely new and beautiful scenic setting will also be seen and a very strong company has been engaged to present the large number of parts.

Ambiguous Farewell.
My Sophy read how ladies all,
Who wanted to ingratiate,
Would make their modish forms this fall
More sylphlike and emaciate.

And, always keen for comme il faut's
Most transient protuberance,
She seized the idea with—Lord knows!—
Extravagant exuberance

Hence, when I saw her next, I said:
"Ah, me! The saints palaver us!
Sophy—is it you? Why, blast my head!
How came you so cadaverous?"

She told me then how savoir faire

second class,
And how she'd banted then and there
Into a higher-reckoned class.

Cried I: "Ah, what a thing to do!
Your weight's down to decimal,
Your figure, from this profile view,
Is—well, infinitesimal!"

She said: "You like it, don't you, dear?
Indeed, I felt quite sure of you!"
"Goodbye," said I, and dropped a tear,
"I hope to see much more of you."

"And so, dear," Lady Alice went on, pursuing her advantage, "you mustn't let Ludovic think you don't love him enough, if you do."

"Oh, but I don't," Paula said, hurriedly.

"You said you could try."

"I could have tried then; I can't now."

"Excuse me, dear," Lady Alice exclaimed, twisting her mouth into a sympathetic smile. "I'm talking about what I have no business to. There! I shall say no more about it. I'm sorry I began. I shouldn't have done it, only that I know so well what love means, when it has come to us—and gone on. Being Ludovic's sister, I thought—but no. Let's talk of something else. By-the-way, I went over to call on the Winships yesterday, and I saw your portrait. It's superb."

"I'm glad you like it."

The new bright color in Paula's face might have sprung from mere pleasure in the success of the work. "Like it isn't the word. It's a splendid work of art, that's what it is, my dear, and you know that I don't speak on the subject without knowledge. That man has something in him that none of our other young painters have got, and he'll go far—you mark my words. I can't think how you ever came to happen on him."

"It was my cousin, Mrs. George Trafford, who suggested my having it done."

"She's very philanthropic, isn't she? Oh yes, I see. She got you to sit to him out of a spirit of benevolence."

"Not that exactly."

"Well, you've done a very good thing, in any case. He tells me it's to go to the Salon, and if so his reputation is made. How do you like him?" she ended, abruptly.

"Like him? How?"

"As a man. You see, I've mothered the whole family, so to speak, in times past, and so I have an interest in him. How do you think he seems?"

"Oh, very well."

"Only that?"

"No—I wouldn't say only that."

"He struck me as very good-looking."

"He seemed so to me."

"And I thought him very determined and manly, and so on. Of course, I knew he was; he's always been so. They've had such a hard time, you know, perhaps you don't know; but he had a man's pluck even when he was a boy. Now the worst of that will be over for them, since you've given him such a lift."

"I'm very glad," Paula said, just audibly.

"And you've done him another good turn. I don't know whether I ought to tell you or not."

She laughed lightly, and Paula lifted her eyes, full of inquiry.

"I don't see why I shouldn't tell you," Lady Alice went on, as if with inward amusement. "It can't matter to you, after all the admiration you've had."

"Please don't," Paula begged.

"Why not? It isn't anything to you, and to him it's like electricity to the wire. You know what artists are. They never seem able to do their best work until they've found some one who appeals to their imagination as an ideal. Dante wasn't anything until he saw Beatrice, even though he lived to marry Gemma Donati."

"Please don't go on, Lady Alice. It makes me feel ridiculous."

"Oh, you know what I was going to say. Then I might as well stop. I thought I might be telling you something new; but of course you must have seen it long before I did. You needn't pity him; it's the sort of thing that does any young man good. Love isn't for men what I said just now it was for women. If they have to let the best slip by, they've a greater faculty than we for putting up with second-best. But—what? What's the matter, dear? You look as if you were going to cry. For mercy's sake don't do here, where you'll attract so much attention."

"I'm not going to," the girl managed to say.

"That's good; but have I offended you? No? What can it be, then? Is it—? Oh no, it can't be. It's too impossible. It's too absurd. It can't be. Upon my word, I believe I'm like the farmer's wife who went out to look for hen's eggs and found a pot of gold. Paula, my dear, when you said just now that you couldn't try again to love Ludovic, was it because—?"

CHAPTER XI.

During the spring the first golden laurel-leaves of popular attention began dropping into Winship's studio. Before his work was finished he knew it was receiving that measure of respect which comes from being talked about. Up to the present his reputation had been confined to friends, critics, and connoisseurs. Now his name was to pass from mouth to mouth, out from the narrow circle of those who know a good thing, to the broader world which must be told where to look for it. In the prophetic hints with which the great journals herald the approaching Salon, there were frequent hints of a new, young artist of extraordinary ability, and the portrait he was painting of Mademoi-

OVER BLOUSE OR JUMPER 5804.
Each new variation of the over blouse seems a bit more attractive than the last and each one is certain to find a place in the wardrobe. This one is novel in many of its features and is graceful and becoming, yet by no means extreme. The modified kimono sleeves give breadth while the tucks are so arranged as to give the best possible lines to the figure. As illustrated the material is pongee in a very beautiful shade of amethyst, while the trimming is velvet and embroidery worked onto the material. The over blouse, however, is appropriate for both the separate waist and for the gown, and for almost every material used for garments of the sort. Everything fashionable is thin and soft and consequently all can be tucked with success. Trimming always can be varied to suit individual taste and the necessities of the special occasion. Velvet is being extensively used and always is handsome, but appliques are offered by the score and soutache applique is one of the newest and best liked of all trimmings. In place of the embroidery medallions or separate motifs could be utilized, or the material could be left plain.

The pattern 5804 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

NORTH SIDERS FEEL WANT OF A NEW DEPOT

ROAD FEARS OTHER CALLS

Tendency of All Cities to Demand New Depots Said to Deter Milwaukee from Building Here

The following from the Preston Times may voice in a great measure the spirit of the progressive citizens of the North Side who want a new Milwaukee depot, and also suggests that the reason that North La Crosse does not get a new depot is that if one were erected the other cities along the route would also want one.

"Mr. Earling expressed his inability at the present time to give us the much desired new depot, but intimated that our wants would be attended to as soon as they could procure the necessary men and material. The officials, as well as our own citizens, recognize the fact that our present depot facilities are entirely inadequate and besides do not conform to the law, but we have been disposed to patience, thinking that when the company finally gets around to us we will get something in keeping with the importance of a county seat town. What we want is a depot, built from our own brick, roomy and substantial, as well as ornamental. This the Times has faith that we will get as President Earling has long evinced a friendly feeling for our town, and to him we owe the building of the Presto-nisnours branch which has proven such a convenience to our own people as well as the public generally. The Times would advise patience for a while longer, feeling confident that we will be well repaid. We understand that an addition has been ordered built to the Harmony depot, and were it not that we feel confident of getting something better than a mere addition we should feel like 'going straight up' at this apparent neglect of what is destined to be the greatest town in the county."

LOCAL GIRL IS MEETING CHAIRMAN

Miss Matilda Miller, principal of the Sixth district school at Eau Claire, who has been visiting her mother on upper Caledonia street during the entire summer vacation, was chairman of the recent meeting of the Northwestern Teachers' association meeting at that city and in behalf of the committee she thanked the citizens of Eau Claire for their support in entertaining the many visitors.

To the Eau Claire Leader she said: "So freely did the citizens respond that we had places of entertainment to spare, and as we had a record-breaking attendance, this statement is the best evidence of the hearty co-operation of our citizens."

"We also desire to state that in some cases, teachers, who had received assignments by letter, in advance, did not attend. This will explain why some citizens did not receive their quota of teachers after they had prepared for them; however, we trust that no inconvenience was caused from this fact."

"We also desire to state that the success of this convention is in a large measure due to the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Eau Claire, who made the convention itself possible."

MISS INEZ CLOW DIES YESTERDAY

The death of little Inez Clow, aged 11 years, occurred yesterday at her home, 1311 Charles street, after an illness of only three days.

She was taken ill on Friday and passed away at 12:30 yesterday.

Death was due to uremic poisoning after an attack of scarlet fever.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later, William Dwyer is in charge.

BRAKEMAN HURLED FROM FAST TRAIN

J. SIMONSON MEETS WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

SERIOUSLY HURT ON ROCKS

Was Standing on Top of Stock Cars When Train Struck Curve, and Was Dashed to Ground.

J. Simonson, a brakeman on the C. B. & Q., met with a serious accident caused by a fall from a flying stock train near Stockholm yesterday.

Mr. Simonson was on the top of the train which was going at a rate of about forty miles an hour, when it struck a curve about a mile from Stockholm. Mr. Simonson was thrown off and fell on the rocks beside the track.

He was not missed and the train failed to stop. Despite the fact that he was seriously injured by the fall Mr. Simonson walked the mile between the scene of the accident and Stockholm. At the station a doctor was summoned and his injuries were attended to. He was brought back to La Crosse on the next train and Doctor Suitor, the physician for the "Q," dressed his wounds, which consist of a bad gash over the left eye and other injuries about the head and neck.

He is now resting easily at his home, 1503 Charles street, and it is not thought the injuries will result seriously.

SUICIDE IS CLAIMED

NEILAND'S BROTHER TAKES THE BODY

Dead Man Went to South Dakota to Find Work

The body of Charles Neiland, who committed suicide near Winona by hanging himself on a Northwestern passenger train some time ago, was claimed Saturday by his brother, George Neiland, of Verona, Wis. The remains were taken to Verona or Middleton, Wis., where the parents of the dead man reside, for interment.

According to the story told by George, the brother of the dead man, he had left Verona a short time ago for South Dakota, where he was to receive employment. While there he sold a farm belonging to his brother for a sum amounting to about $300, but no such amount was found on his person at the time of his death. It is presumed that he lost the money in some unaccountable way and the worry over the loss drove him to commit suicide.

LABORER HIT BY BURLINGTON TRAIN

Anthony Mallarky, a laborer employed by the "Q" at Savanna, was struck by train No. 52 in the yards at that place Saturday night and was seriously injured. The exact particulars are lacking.

Dr. Johnson of Savanna was called immediately after the accident and attended to the injuries which consisted of a broken arm, a broken hip and two or three fractured ribs. He was taken to the county poor house at Mount Carroll and will be attended by a physician until he is fully recovered.

The man has no relatives in this section of the country, having come here but a short time ago from Butte, Montana, where he had been employed as a miner.

ST. JAMES CLUB PLANS BANQUET

Twenty-two members attended the regular meeting of the St. James club last evening in the school rooms. The meeting was called to order by President George H. Healy at 8 o'clock. After the business meeting there was a short social session.

Plans are now under way for a banquet to be given under the auspices of the club in the near future.

TO SELECT NEW PASTOR WEDNESDAY

PRESBYTERIAN CONGREGATION MEETS THIS WEEK.

SUCCESSOR TO REV. TURNER

Rev. A. A. Randall of Illinois, Who Filled Pulpit Sunday May Be Selected.

At the next meeting of the official board of the North Presbyterian church, to be held in the church parlors Wednesday, a pastor to take the place of the Rev. W. J. Turner, who resigned, will be selected.

As yet no names have been suggested for the place, but in all probability the name of Rev. A. A. Randall of Centerville, Ill., will be taken up and adopted.

Rev. Randall occupied the pulpit at both the morning and the evening services yesterday and made a very favorable impression on the congregation. Besides being a pleasing speaker Rev. Randall has a personality that wins friends.

The subject of his sermon in the morning was "Happy, the Pure in Heart." The evening subject was "The Savior Jesus."

It has not been decided who will fill the pulpit next Sunday.

MARY CLOW VICTIM OF CARLET FEVER

Mary Clow, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Clow of 1811 Charles street, died yesterday noon at her home after a short illness of scarlet fever.

The funeral was held from the house this morning at 10 o'clock and was attended by many friends and relatives. The Rev. A. L. Woods of the Caledonia street M. E. church had charge of the services, while the arrangements were attended to by William Dwyer.

Interment was made at Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. William Bristow, who submitted to an operation at the St. Francis hospital last Sunday, is recovering nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goodenough of Rose street are the proud parents of a baby girl.

O. L. Schmeen of this city was in Winona on business Saturday.

BRYAN WILLING TO RUN AGAIN

St. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 21.—In letters to political friends here William Jennings Bryan states that about the middle of November he will announce that if it is the will of the democratic national convention that he accept another nomination he will acquiesce.

The Ladies in the Trenches.

A Soldier Song of the Sulu Isles.

If a lady wearin' pantaloons is swingin' wit' a knife,

Must I stop an' cross-examine as ter sex?

"Air you Datto Mudd, his ownself, Ma'am, or air you jest his wife?

Kindly answer 'fore I reach yer solar plex."

If a lady wearin' britches is a hidin' in th' ditches,

An' she itches fer me ears as souvenirs,

Must I ask before I twist 'er: "Air you Miss, or air you Mister?"

How shell a bashful man decide th' dears?

CHORUS.

Ladies, if yer wearin' o' yer husband's pantaloons—

(Mercy! how you makes a soldier blush!)

You will have ter take th' chances w'ich is tagged to husband's pants,

Or stay ter home an' make th' babies hush!

We ain't no clarryvovants; if yer wearin' pantaloons

We must take you as we find you when th' guns begin their tunes;

An' we cannot be careessin' though you puzzle us distressin'.

When yer wearin' o' yer husband's pantaloons.

If a lady wearin' pantaloons is in a soldier jam,

An' she's tryin' most distinct ter take yer life,

Just tell her that yer needed by yer own dear Uncle Sam,

An' ax her pardon as you dodge her knife!

When she cuts an' jabs so spritely, try ter speak to her politely,

An' excuse yerself as nicely as you can;

But you mustn't take no chances an' don't always judge by pants—

'Cause you cannot tell but wot she is a man!

TELLS OF ORIGIN OF MOTION PICTURES

INTERESTING FACTS BY MANAGER OF CRYSTAL.

INVENTED SIXTEEN YEARS AGO

Manager Hill Tells Story of the Industry and Predicts Vast Development in a Few Years

Manager Hill of the Crystal theatre of this city talks interestingly on the origin and the possibilities of the moving picture. He predicts great improvement and development in the next few years. He says:

"Sixteen years ago the first patent was issued for a motion picture projecting apparatus. At the same time the film on which the pictures were taken, as well as the camera for taking pictures of moving objects, was invented."

"Since then an industry has grown up, with capital invested in it which reaches in to the seven figures and keeps busy many factories and thousands of photographers, actors, scene painters, carpenters, etc."

"The industry is in its infancy, and the possibilities of what will be accomplished in the future in moving pictures and the effects therewith, are simply marvelous. Think of watching moving pictures and hearing each actor speaking in their lines, hearing their individual voice, their sobs or laughter, bands playing, report of guns and the clash of swords in combat, the splash of water, the rumble of the train, the peals of thunder. These are all possibilities of the future, which will surely be worked out, developed and perfected and that before long."

"Some films cost thousands of dollars before they are placed before the public. Take for instance the Great Passion Play which we give this week. It has cost over fifty thousand dollars."

"Take first its history. It is a sacred drama founded on the life of Christ. Originating among the Greeks in the fourth century A. D. and was called Christos Paschon. In 1663 the village of Oberammergau in Bavaria was visited by a terrible plague which devastated their country. On its cessation the entire population made a vow to perform the passion play of our Saviour every tenth year, a vow which has been faithfully and religiously kept. The impersonator of Christ considers his part an act of worship. He and all of the performers are selected for their holy life, and are consecrated to their work with prayer and fasting. It is the great ambition of every child of the village to so live that they may be thought worthy and given a part in this great play, and it is the event of their life. Every village girl has the ambition to portray the part of Mary, Mother of Christ, and in order to attain this, they must not even in thought do one thing contrary to the virtues and pure character required for the part. Thousands of dollars are spent by people from all over the world who go to Oberammergau to witness this stupendous enactment."

"Now in order that every man, woman and child can see this wonderful production, Prof. Alexis of Oberammergau was secured at a large salary to superintend and prepare the scenes enacted in the passion play. In addition many more thousands were spent for costumes, actors, etc., in order to make the picture as true to the Bible description as possible. No one can witness these pictures without a feeling of devoutness coming upon him."

"The effect at times is startling, and the coloring is superb, and it shows what can be done in moving pictures with a great subject that vitally interests and affects every human being."

METHODISTS TO HOLD A SOCIAL

The Forward Movement club of the First Methodist church will hold a social gathering on Thursday, Oct. 24th, in the church parlors.

Refreshments will be served and a good program has been prepared, to begin at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is expected.

An Indisputable Judge.

Signor Carducci, the great Italian poet, who has recently died, came near having a duel one day, according to a writer in Le Cri de Paris. He possessed a fine spirit of contradiction and had the characteristics of a fighter. Once when traveling in Lombardy he was in a railway compartment with an army officer who did not recognize him. Conversation turned upon the latest literary productions. They spoke of a poem by the author of "Odes Barbares," which had just appeared.

"This Carducci," exclaimed the officer with enthusiasm, "is a superb genius! The greatest since Dante, the equal of Dante himself."

"Humph!" responded the other.

"A genius!" responded the other.

"I find him mediocre."

"Mediocre, sir? You don't know anything about it."

"Oh, you are incapable of judging."

"You!"

"Sir!"

"Sir!"

The officer handed his card to the disputant.

The other smiled. "There's mine."

On it was the name "Giosue Carducci, professor at the University of Bologna."

The officer, removing his hat, bowed politely, and then both men laughed.—Youth's Companion.

TAFTISING CHINA.

(New York Tribune.)

Chinese comments upon Secretary Taft, his visit to China and present and prospective relations between that country and America are gratifying, but by no means surprising. Mr. Taft appears to have done in China what he has hitherto done in various other lands of both continents. He has created a most agreeable impression both of himself and of the country which he represents. He has played actual or potential will and has materially promoted confidence and friendship. Such achievements are not always within the power of envoys. They are not to be effected through diplomatic intrigues or secret treaties, which may temporarily govern official action, but which are vain in their effect upon the public sentiment which must in the end be the friendship. They are the outcome of directness and frankness and transparent candor and the capacity basis of every lasting peace and not only to see, but in some measure to appreciate and sympathize with both sides of a subject—qualities which Mr. Taft conspicuously possesses.

NEW WAY TO HUNT RACCOONS.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 21.

Hunting raccoons with roman candles is the latest fad started by Sheriff Robert W. Chanler of Dutchess county for the entertainment of the younger women of the "400." The sheriff has had several parties of the society women out at his estate for the hunts, and whenever a tree was found in which a coon had taken refuge several of the party would get underneath and shower the branches with roman candles.

Cigar smoke is the smoke that the many fortunes go up in.

BLAIR WINS GAME

BUT TREMPPEALEAU HAS A KICK COMING

Claim Is Made Dirty Ball Was Resorted To

TREMPEALEAU, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The first game of football that was ever played in this city was pulled off Saturday afternoon, when Blair came down and snatched victory from the locals to the tune of 15 to 0. The first half opened with Trempealeau kicking the pigskin into Blair's territory and before they could realize what had happened Blair made a touchdown. They succeeded in making two more touchdowns in this half on two fumbles by the locals and by some queer playing on their part, which was allowed by the Blair professor who acted as referee. His decisions were so rank that he was even booed and jeered by his own people. The rule plainly says that there shall be no foul tackles, but the Blair team disregarded them and time and time again they would ring in this work and it was quickly sanctioned by their chief, the professor.

In the second half the locals seeing that it was impossible to play strictly to the rules, went in for vengeance. Although they were outwitted they succeeded in making the Blair team look like a squad which just started in to learn the game. As far as progressive playing was concerned, the locals outplayed Blair by a wide margin.

THE HORRORS.

(Record-Herald.)

It is a safe prediction that the war horrors which are disturbing the dreams of many anti-Roosevelt newspapers in the East will never disturb anybody else's dreams. There is always a greatly exaggerated emphasis placed on the power of mischief-makers to stir up war between nations, and in a country such as the United States is today—despite all the allegations of hysteria which some folks make against it—it is safe to say that the mischief-makers cannot even ruffle the surface.

As a sample of the absurdities to which the war shriekers are lowering themselves, the effort made by the Washington Herald is significant. After ringing the changes on "vague misgivings" and "dire suspicions" the writer calls attention to Taft's visit to the Philippines and asks: "Is his visit only a coincidence or has it a deeper significance not apparent unless all other facts are taken into consideration? What is the truth about the situation?"

Of course the truth is that Secretary Taft long ago promised the Filipinos that he would be present at the opening of their national assembly. He has gone there for that purpose and none other. His trip was planned in almost all of its details last winter, long before the first incidents occurred which have given an excuse for the present sophisticated talk.

But the truth has no interest for the newspapers that are engaged in "seeing things" that they can use in the fight against the Roosevelt policies. The theory of the hidden meaning of the Taft trip is already having its vogue in New York, and incidentally making its advocates look unusually silly.

AND HIS OUTRAGED FEELINGS WERE RELIEVED.

Voice (from above, to Smith, who, in search of cider, has come a-header): "John, dear, have you broken the pitcher?"

Smith: "No, — it! But here it goes!"

She will return here next week on her way to the great Purty convention in Battle Creek, Mich., where she will be one of the speakers.

GROCERS MAY SELL BY WEIGHT

Secretary Harry Taggart of the La Crosse Grocers association says that a movement is now on foot to sell everything by weight, in the line of groceries, except the package goods.

Especially is this advocated in the sale of bananas which he says are purchased by the bunch, and sold by the dozen, often at a loss. Sweet potatoes are sold by the pound and, he says, it may be a short time before the other potatoes are disposed of in the same way.
No definite action has been taken, however.

DECIDE ON SERVICE

HOAG TO PREACH ON THANKSGIVING

Annual Service in Universalist Church

The Rev. J. W. Hoag, pastor of the First Baptist church, will conduct the Union Thanksgiving service at the St. Paul's Universalist church, Eighth and Cass street, this year. The Rev. Hoag and the Universalist church were chosen at the meeting of the Pastors' Union this morning.

Each year a succeeding church has the honor of holding the service, while a different pastor also is chosen. The sermon will be preached by each pastor of the union once before one gives it twice. This has been the custom for several years and is still in vogue. Members of the various churches attend the church in which the services are held on Thanksgiving day.

Fowler Reads Paper.
The Rev. J. K. Fowler, pastor of the First Universalist church, read a paper on Rome. The Rev. Fowler visited Rome on his European trip last year, and recited an interesting history of the historical city. During the visit of the Rev. Fowler to Rome, the National Sunday School convention was in session there, adding to the charm. The convention also was described by the pastor.

NORMAL PLANS NOT READY YET

State Senator Thomas Morris has returned from Madison, Wis., where he attended a meeting of the state board of normal regents. The plans of the local school were not presented, owing to an unavoidable delay.

While at Madison, Senator Morris argued several cases before the supreme court. From Madison he went to Chicago, where he was called on a business mission.

Only Temporarily.

The old Nicholas Gillis building, 100 South Front street, now being occupied by the La Crosse Soap works, was sold at public auction at the court house Saturday morning to Isador Schilling for $4,000. Mr. Schilling being the only bidder. The offer was made in his behalf by Attorney G. Bunge and Referee Otto Bosshard, declared the building sold to him for the amount specified. The La Crosse Soap works, which leases the building is in no way affected and will continue to occupy the building.

CO-EDUCATION IS VOTED DESIRABLE

The question at the last meeting of the Lincoln-Douglas club was "Resolved, that co-education in colleges is desirable."

The affirmative was argued by Carl Neprud and Mr. Dickinson, while the negative was upheld by Shalbach and Bjornstad.

The jury which was composed of Charlie Bradish, Carl Lockman and Jones, voted unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

The question for next Friday will be, "Resolved, that a literary course in a small college is better than a literary course in a large university."

LA CROSSE COUNTY IS TO PAYW $41,221.72

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—La Crosse county will pay $41,221.72 in taxes into the state treasury this year as its share on the total value of the property of the county, announced by the state tax commission a few days ago.

More than $2,500,000 will be collected by the state this year, although properly speaking no part of it is used as a state tax for the running expenses of the state government or the building of the new capitol. The largest part of the tax collected is for the support of the common schools of the state, and a large part of the money is returned to the county, the state merely acting as a sort of a clearing house.

Of the total amount to be collected by the state $157,570 is for interest on the state debt. On this interest La Crosse county will pay $2,444.93. Of the $125,000 to be raised throughout the state for free high school purposes, La Crosse county will contribute, $1,939.57; of the total of $120,000 to be collected for the support of the graded schools the county will pay, $1,861.98; of the university tax on the state of $644,657, it will pay, $10,002.82; of the normal school tax of $230,000, the county will contribute, $3,568.80 and of the common school tax of $1,379,410, La Crosse county will pay, $21,408.62—a total for the county of $41,221.72.

These are figures compiled in the office of the secretary of state, but will not be given out as official until Secretary of State Frear returns from Georgia and signs the certificates of tax to each county. This will be done the latter part of the week, when the notices will be sent to each county clerk. Were a tax for the running expenses of the government and the building of the new capitol to be levied, the total for La Crosse county would be about $15,000 higher, but this has been found unnecessary under the increased taxes paid in the past five years by railroad and insurance corporations.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Ivy used in the decoration of the Methodist church in the village of New Haven has poisoned nearly half of the members of that congregation. Prominent women of the church gathered the ivy, which proved to be of the poisonous variety, Friday afternoon and hung it gracefully in the church parlors, where a social was held that night. Arms, faces and bodies of at least two scores parishioners became painfully swollen and many have been compelled to take to their beds.

IVY POISONS 40 IN A CHURCH.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 21.—Handicapped by trying to carry away nineteen articles of feminine wearing apparel always spoken of in the plural, which he had stolen from the department store of Betker Bros., Philo Joblas, an ex-convict, was unable to escape the fleet-footed manager of the store, who gave chase. When searched Joblas also had on a pair of corsets, a corset cover, a chemise, a cardigan jacket and two overcoats for which he had not paid.

REVENUE IN WEEK REACHES $1,544.48

POSTOFFICE IS NOW COUNTING
EACH PIECE OF MAIL

103,908 PIECES ARE HANDLED

Week Was Comparatively Light One,
But Gives Illustration of Vast Work Necessary.

Every piece of mail matter which passed through the local postoffice during the past week had to be counted, and the amount of revenue derived from each class was also audited.

The task is a stupendous one as the letters not only have to be counted, but are being weighed, the weight of matter sent to each state recorded separately, and the weight of the equipment in the handling of the mail is also computed, besides sending it out to its final destination. Each piece of mail is therefore handled several times before it finally leaves the office.

Although the past week is reported by the clerks to be very light the following figures will give an estimate of the amount of work to be done in the new system.

CITY NEWS

MOVEMENT ON RIVER.—The F. Weyerhaeuser went down river Saturday. The Ben Hersey, Clyde and Isaac Staples brought rafts down river yesterday. The Isaac Staples returned up river last evening and brought the remaining division of the raft down this morning.

BREAKING GROUND.—Contractors started breaking the ground for the addition of the Langdon and Boyd packing house this morning. The work will be rushed to have the foundation completed before cold weather sets in. The old frame slaughter house has been moved up against the bridge.

PROPERTY TRANSFER.—Samuel Claus has sold to John Claus property at the northeast corner of Fifth and Cameron avenue. The consideration is nominal.

SINGERS SPEND A PLEASANT SUNDAY

The members of the 1908 Saengerfest promoters enjoyed a very social time yesterday afternoon.

The members of the Frohnsin society spent the afternoon in singing and dancing. Pryor took a photograph of the members.

Several fine vocal selections were rendered and dancing was resumed in the evening.

BOOSTERS TO MEET TONIGHT

His Cigar Doesn't Taste Right

And Yet It Is the same He Was Smo'ing With So Much Relish After Dinner, Last Night. Out of the Very Same Box, Too.

IT ISN'T THE CIGAR—IT'S THE STOMACH

Every smoker has experienced this peculiar condition of the stomach and liver, the result usually of imperfect digestion of food. And the blame is usually put on the cigar and not where it belongs.

Such men are usually high livers, hard workers mentally, living under high pressure and high draught, and it doesn't take a great deal to disorder the stomach or render the liver torpid.

They should make it a practice to use some tried and reliable remedy like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, that will aid Nature and not force it and will take care of the sudden attacks of acute indigestion.

No matter how disordered the stomach may be, it will right itself if given the chance. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest food, where the stomach can't, give the abused stomach and intestines a rest, and offer renewed strength to the worn-out glands and muscles.

Brain workers can rely on Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, no matter how tense the strain. All druggists carry them in the fifty cent packages, or if you prefer a free trial package can be had by sending your name and address today. F. A. Stuart Company, 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

NEW WARRANTS IN BLIND PIG CASE

ANOTHER WARRANT OUT FOR "DUKE OF MINDORO."

HANSON CASE IS ADJOURNED

Absence of Attorney Wolfe Makes Postponement Necessary; Others Up Tomorrow.

Two more warrants, making a total of five, were sworn out today against alleged blind piggers in the town of Farmington by Peter Gullickson, chairman of the town, when A. C. Hanson, the "Duke of Mindoro," was arraigned for a second time on a charge of selling intoxicants without a license. The trial was continued until Wednesday, Oct. 30, because of the absence of Attorney W. F. Wolfe, counsel for the defendant, from the city.

One of the new warrants is directed against Hanson, charging the third offense, since the town went "dry" on July 1, while a second is directed against George Pfaff, and Matt Elange. All charge the illegal sale of liquor.

In the new complaint against Hanson, it is charged he sold intoxicating drinks on Aug. 10. Pfaff and Elange are charged with dispensing of "wet," goods on Aug. 1.

Though an acquittal was secured against Hanson in the first trial, and the remaining cases are based on the same evidence, it is probable the state will force the alleged blind piggers to quit the sale of the drinks, charged as intoxicating. The expense of several trials, it is thought will have this effect.

Pfaff and Elange will be arraigned tomorrow on the first charge.

LOOK OUT FOR THE BALLOON RACE

Canada, is the route the balloons are expected to take.

Preparations for the filling of nine balloons were well under way by noon, and it is expected the start will be made promptly at 4 o'clock. The balloons were partly inflated this morning, so they could be measured. The French balloons seem to be the more complete, because the Anjou with its 79,250 cubic feet of gas, has the largest carrying capacity. They are the only balloons fitted with steel decanters holding oxygen and appliance for administering it when the balloonist feels his heart going back on him on account of the altitude.

Balloon Week Program.

Oct. 21.—Sunset race for the James Gordon Bennett cup. Twelve entrants.

Oct. 22 (4 p. m.)—Contests for dirigible balloons; one-mile course. Exact course to be announced just before the start. Seven contestants.

Oct. 23.—Gasless flying machines and nondescript machines heavier than air vehicles. Eight entries.

Oct. 24.—Aeroplane class. Three entries.

All contests will be subject to the wind at the time scheduled. If the weather is unfavorable for the international contest Monday it will be postponed till more favorable conditions obtain.

Nine balloons, representing four nations, in the second annual race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, will ascend between 4 and 5 o'clock from the grounds of the Aero club of St. Louis and what is expected to be the greatest balloon race in history will be on.

To Start at 4 P. M.

Men from all over the world, among them representatives of the American and German armies, are here to witness the contest. The first balloon will be let go at 4 o'clock and others will follow at five minute intervals. An enormous crowd has assembled to see the start.

Inflation of the balloons began at 1 o'clock this afternoon and it was announced that all would be filled in two hours.

The first balloon to start upon its voyage will be the Pommer, which has been entered by Germany with Oscar Ersloch as pilot and Prof. A. Lawrence Rotch of the Blue Hill observatory, as his companion. This balloon will be started off with the military band from Jefferson barracks playing "Die Wacht Am Rhein."

The second will be the United States, piloted by Maj. Hersey, with Arthur T. Atherholt as his companion, and "The Star Spangled Banner" will be played while they are starting for the clouds.

This is the balloon used by Lieut. Lahm and with which he won the James Gordon Bennett cup at Paris.

The third will be the Liele De France, entered by France, with Alfred Leblanc as pilot and E. M. Mix as his assistant.

PROHIBITION ACT STOPS SACRAMENT

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21.—Fearing that the state prohibition law, which will go into effect on Jan. 1, will forbid the use of sacramental wines, the Georgia Baptist churches have passed resolutions asking the governor for a ruling on the question. They also request that, if their fears are correct, he call a special session of the legislature to amend the statute so as to permit the continuance of the religious ceremony.

During the debate in the legislature before the bill was passed it was pointed out that the measure made no provision for the sacrament. Supporters of the measure were asked to make some provision, but did not do so.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The Great Restorative Non-Alcoholic Tonic

of the day, made entirely of native medicinal roots and without a drop of alcohol in its composition.

There are no secrets—all its ingredients being printed on the bottle-wrappers.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only builds up the strength of the feeble, debilitated, languid, nervous and easily fatigued, whether young or aged, but it enriches and purifies the blood, thus making the improvement lasting.

It corrects and overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, torpid liver, chronic diarrhea and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Bronchial, throat and laryngeal affections, attended with hoarseness, persistent cough, and all manner of catarrhal affections are cured by the "Golden Medical Discovery."

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the nasal passages out freely with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" as a constitutional treatment. Old obstinate cases of catarrh yield to this thorough course of treatment.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. Old, open, running sores, or ulcers, are healed by taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" internally and applying Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local dressing. The Salve can be had of druggists, or will be sent by return mail on receipt of 50 cents in stamps. Address Doctor Pierce as below for it.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases. The reason Why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by old Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equalled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Retirement of Morse.

Charles W. Morse, one of the mercantile directors, confirmed the news of his resignation and declared there was nothing more to be said on this score. Morse, whose career in finance has been meteoric, was forced also to resign from the directorate of the Van Norden Street company and the Fourteenth street bank. His resignation from the directorates of the Garfield National bank, the National Bank of North America, and the New Amsterdam National bank, is rumored.

Sacrifices Pet Stock.

The first intimation the street had of Mr. Morse's desperate financial condition was when a huge volume of bonds of the Consolidated Steamship company, which controls the coastwise trade of the United States and which was dominated by Morse, was suddenly thrown on the market and sold down to 17, which is a low record.

DAIRY MEN FIGHT THE CENTRALIZERS

LOCAL INTERESTS TAKE MATTER BEFORE RATE COMMISSION

HEARING TO BE HELD NOV. 5

Claim Giant Monopoly Is Being Reared to Crush All Independent Dairies

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—One of the most important matters to come before the rate commission in some time will be the hearing relating to the rates on butter, milk and cream which has been set for Nov. 5. Former Railroad Commissioner John Barnes has been retained by the dairy interests and the dairy and food commissioners from five different states have written that they will be present at the hearing.

A Death Fight.

Wisconsin dairymen claim that it is a death fight between the interests of the local creameries and the Chicago centralizers. The same fight, only on a broader scale as applied to all other states, will be carried on before the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Barnes will also appear for the dairy interests before the national board.

The Wisconsin dairymen recently formed an organization in Wisconsin, of which former Gov. W. D. Hoard and Dairy and Food Commissioner J. Q. Emery are moving spirits, and have raised large sums of money to fight the Chicago interests, which they allege have obtained unjust and discriminatory long haul rates from the railroads.

A Great Monopoly.

When the matter comes before the railroad commission on Nov. 5, the following dairy commissioners from the different states will be present to give evidence as to how ruinous the rates of the centralizers are and how a great monopoly is being built up at the cost of the small creameries; E. M. Washburn, Jefferson City, Mo.; H. R. Wright, Des Moines, Ia.; E. A. Slater, St. Paul, Minn.; A. H. Wheaton, Brookings, S. D., and F. R. Flint, Bismark, N. D. It is also expected that officials from Washington, interested in the dairy interests of the states and the protection of the small creameries, will be present.

Something Like Standard Oil.

"The method adopted by the centralizers is to pay high prices for cream in new territory where they come in contact and in competition with the local creamery until the latter is forced to suspend operation, whereupon the prices are dropped to a lower level than that paid by the local creamery," said J. G. Moore, secretary of the Wisconsin Butter-makers' association. "The process of gradual elimination is carried on in much the same way that the Standard Oil trust froze out the local refineries, one by one, until it was left undisputed master of the field and at liberty to dominate the market price."

Must Organize Against Trust.

"The method of getting rates from the railroads is different than ours. It is neither good for the farmer, nor for the butter or cheese maker that competition in the business of buying milk and cream be driven from the field. The danger spoken of is not fanciful but is real and immediate. It is absolutely essential to the preservation of the dairy and cheese interests of Wisconsin that they organize and crush the enemy."

up the results of the hunt: "We got three bears, six deer, one wild turkey, twelve squirrels, one duck, one possum, and one wildcat. We ate them all except the wildcat, and there were times when we almost felt as if we could eat it."

How President Killed Bear.

The one bear that was obtained by the president was killed on Tuesday, and the killing was witnessed by one of the McKenzies and Alex Ennolds. They agree in saying that the president's bearing was extremely sportsmanlike. The animal had been chased by the dogs for three hours, the president following all the time. When at last they came within hearing distance the president dismounted from his horse, dashed off his coat, and tore into the canebrake, coming to within twenty paces of the bear.

The dogs were coming up rapidly, with the president's favorite, Rowdy, in the lead, and the brute had stopped to bid defiance to them when the president sent a bullet from his 45-70 rifle hurtling through the thicket after it. The shot went through the animal's lights and would have been fatal, but with the little life left in it the bear turned upon the dogs. The president concluded to end it all and lodged a second bullet between the shoulders, which broke the creature's neck.

Roosevelt Gives Negro $20.

Other members of the party were not long in coming up and the president was so rejoiced over his good fortune that he embraced each of his companions. They were equally happy, and in the exuberance of the moment Ennolds went to the extent of telling the president that he, the president, was "no tenderfoot." The president responded by presenting him with a $20 note.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

RECIPE FOR COLDS

Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce Concentrated oil of pine. The bottle is to be well shaken each time and used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. The Concentrated oil of pine comes in one-half ounce vials packed securely in birch wood cases which are intended to protect it from light and retain all the original ozone. Don't use bulk oil of pine or imitations of Concentrated. They are insoluble and work havoc to the kidneys. Any druggist has the Concentrated oil of pine. It will also be found a most excellent remedy for lumbago and all forms of uric acid rheumatism. For this purpose it is taken raw, a few drops on sugar at night and morning.

Concentrated oil of pine is the result of many years' experimenting by one of Philadelphia's foremost doctors who after endless research at last secured a truly soluble oil of pine, so make sure to get the real thing. It also makes an excellent salve to be applied externally on the chest or bruised parts. For this purpose a teaspoonful of the raw oil is added to a saucerful of hot lard.

SEEKS SUICIDE IN CHICAGO PARK

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Choosing a spot near the shelter on the golf links at Jackson park, an unidentified man last evening attempted to commit suicide, shooting himself in the head. Park Policeman Lind hurried to his side and found the man unconscious from the effect of a deep head wound. He was hurried to the office of a doctor, where his wound was dressed. Then he was taken to St. Bernard's hospital.

STRIKERS STILL ARE AFTER SMALL

WANT DEPOSED PRESIDENT OUSTED FROM UNION

FEAR HE MAY "TRY IT AGAIN"

Milwaukee Local Favors Calling Out of Cable Men and Amalgamation of Railway Telegraphers

The press agents of the striking telegraphers are still "on the job," and are not only advocating the complete expulsion of Small, but seek to win by calling out all cable operators, and amalgamating with the railway telegraphers' union.

The bulletins from strike headquarters follow:
"We are looking forward to the special convention with great expectations regarding the O. R. C. T. and the ordering out of all cable men that are members of the C. T. U. A. We also hope to see our O. R. T. brethren take a decided stand against heading commercial business and in that way help us deliver a knockout blow that will put all of the old theories of Clowry down and out for good."

"Another man has sold his honor for gold. This man is known by the name of Walter Woodward, a cousin of Supt. McGill of the Postal. This misguided creature at one time held a card in this local, but failing to pay his small monthly assessments, was dropped. This addition to the force at the Postal office makes the family circle complete and we hope that the stockholders of the company see fit to present this family with a lemon."

"No change in the situation at this place, no desertions and none expected. The financial end of our local affairs is looking better each day, and we hope that by this time next week we will have a sufficient amount on hand to carry on our strike for a month or six weeks longer. When we have exhausted these resources more has been promised. Stick and we win."

Get Another Delegate.
"Milwaukee local No. 2 had another delegate to the Federated Council of this city seated last night. The council asked our delegates to square things for the slap that our ex-president gave to organized labor in general, when he sent his childish plea to the most enthusiastic bunch of strikers that ever walked out. We did this and were assured that the entire membership of our union labor as far as Milwaukee was concerned would back us up until the ice around the poles melted, and for us to stick, and show to the rest of the labor world what organization can do when each and every member shows the determination that the telegraphers have shown in ousting their national president."

"It appears to us as if the Chicago local was getting too much like a weather vane and changed their opinion whenever the wind blows from a different direction. We admire a man or a body of men that will take a firm stand and stay by it, no matter what influences may be used to change their sentiments."

"Milwaukee local No. 2 wishes to go on record as favoring the special convention, and will go farther, demanding the removal of our ex-president from the ranks of the C. T. U. A. We believe in removing a man that has tried to disrupt our organization before he has the second chance."

"Vote for the amalgamation of the O. R. T. and C. T. U. A., also vote for the calling out of all cable men holding cards. Rumors come to us that our members are floating from place to place and when they arrive at a place where they are not known are working for the W. U. or Postal. We wish to say to these weaklings that if they have the faintest spark of manhood in them, be men and stay where you are known, don't sneak like a thief in the night, as your sins shall become known, and the punishment thereof shall be unendurable. Stick and we win."

MILWAUKEE LOCAL NO. 2.

BIBLE STUDENT TRIES MURDER

EUREKA, Ill., Oct. 21.—Drew M. Wilson, a student at the Eureka college theological seminary, stood in the door of the classroom and shot John Walsh, another theological student. The bullet lodged in Walsh's neck but did not touch his spine, and he will recover. Jealousy over a girl to whom both the students had been paying attention is believed to be the cause of the shooting.

MAKE YOUR OWN STOMACH MEDICINE.

Any Druggist Will Sell You the Ingredients.

Here is a simple mixture that Stomach Specialists claim will cure any case of stomach trouble that is curable. The ingredients are all harmless, and you can get them from any good prescription Druggist. You can have your Druggist mix them together for you, or you can take them and mix them at home, here they are:

Compound Tincture of Cinchona, one ounce; Proseine Compound, one ounce; Sherry Wine, half a pint, mix and take a teaspoonful in water before meals and at bed time.
A local Druggist who has mixed these ingredients many times states that it is the Proseine Compound that does the work. It makes Pancreatic Juice and this is what digests your food.

REPUBLICANS HAVE LIQUOR EYE OPEN

WILL LET KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS FIGHT IT OUT

EXPECT TO WIN BY SPLIT

Greatest Liquor State in the Union May Go Dry Next Time as Result of Sentiment

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21. (By J. C. Welliver.)

Is Old Kentucky, with its well-earned fame for good corn liquor and superior mint juleps, and its millions of wealth in distilleries and breweries, going to become a "dry" state. This is the issue of the political campaign that is now on there. The contest possesses no small degree of interest for politicians here and, in fact, the country over, since the republicans hope to win the state in the forthcoming election in consequence of the division of sentiment in the democratic ranks on the liquor question.

Information here is that the liquor interests are quietly throwing their influence to the republican side. The republican leaders are not talking the cause of the liquor men on the stump or in their platform, but they are naturally not averse to profiting by whatever weakness the anti-liquor fight is giving their opponents.

Distillers Chief Factor.

There is no question whatever that the brewing and distilling interests constitute one of the chief factors in Kentucky's business prosperity, commercially and politically they have much strength. It is a big undertaking to make Kentucky a state where the liquor business, both sale and manufacture, is prohibited. Yet this is what the democrats of the state have set out to do. Governor J. C. W. Beckham forced an anti-liquor plank into the democratic platform and S. W. Hager, democratic candidate for governor is making his campaign upon it. He is going up and down in the state, telling his audiences of the evils of the liquor traffic. Ministers, churches and temperance organizations are laboring earnestly in the campaign and hope to see the state shut the liquor business out of Kentucky. The whole state is aroused thoroughly over the liquor question. Registration in the cities is heavy and the indications are there will be a great vote in the election.

Of National Importance.

The struggle possesses no small degree of national importance. If Kentucky as the result of this liquor contest, which is splitting the democratic ranks, should turn over to the republicans this fall, it is quite likely the republicans would retain control of it in 1908, thus adding the Kentucky electors to the republican column. Under the circumstances, republican politicians here consider Kentucky as a state which they are extremely likely to get away from the solid south the coming year.

So complete is democratic division on the prohibition question in Kentucky that while Hager, the democratic candidate for governor, is urging the closing of the saloons, Owen Tyler, the democratic candidate for mayor of Louisville, says that if he is elected mayor he will work for the repeal of the Sunday closing law and will ignore it if the legislature does not repeal it.

The Kentucky contest possesses a peculiar interest for the District of Columbia, where there is a genuine movement started for the abolishment of the sale of liquor by act of congress. This movement, which many smiled at for a while, has passed the joke stage long ago. The saloon and liquor interests are alarmed and frankly admit their fear that prohibition for the national capital is imminent. Should the democrats of Kentucky convert that state to a "dry" commonwealth this fall, it would give a great impetus to the movement for anti-liquor legislation for the District of Columbia by congress next winter.

PRINCE TO AID IN LIFTING CUP

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 21.—Prince Gustavus Adolphus, duke of Soania, eldest son of the crown prince, Prince Gustavus, is manifesting great interest in the proposed challenge for the America's cup in behalf of the Royal Swedish Yacht club.

The prince declared his intention to support the movement by every means possible, and his name appears among those who have subscribed to the fund to guarantee the expenses of building a challenger and racing her in American water.

"BACHELOR MAYOR" IS GIVEN PRESENT

FORT DODGE, Ia., Oct. 21.—H. Cordes, known throughout Europe for having created the title role, Prince Karl Heinrich in "Old Heidelberg," one of the productions of the late Richard Mansfield, arrived in the city to present ex-Mayor S. J. Bennett with a gift from the famous "Bachelors' club of the United States" of Germany. Mr. Cordes came to the United States two months ago in the capacity of official representative of the organization, bearing with him several antiques to be tendered the former mayor in memory of his famous marriage ukase, which for a time formed one of the interesting topics of the press of Germany.

LOOK OUT FOR BALLOONS RACE COURSE MAY TAKE THEM OVER CITY OF LA CROSSE

ROUTE UP RIVER TO WISCONSIN, EAST

STRONG SOUTH WIND MIGHT
BRING FLYERS HERE

START AT 4 O'CLOCK P. M.

Great Crowds Assemble in St. Louis
to Witness the International
Air Race.

La Crosse may have the rare opportunity of viewing the balloon race for the James Gordon Bennett cup. The race starts from St. Louis this afternoon, and the direction to be taken is northward along the Mississippi to the Wisconsin line, and then northeast.

Provided the wind maintains its present direction, from the south, and the velocity remains the same, the balloons may be carried past the turning at the southern boundary of Wisconsin, and brought to La Crosse. The Wisconsin boundary is 121 miles from La Crosse. Dubuque, Ia., is opposite the southern line, and this city is 121 miles distant from La Crosse. An air line, such as would be taken by a balloon in flight, would decrease the distance to fewer than 100 miles.

Weather Observer E. C. Thompson, after consulting the wind gauge and the weather observer, expressed the opinion that the balloons might be carried as far northward as La Crosse. "If the wind continues from the south, La Crosse may have an opportunity of seeing the balloons," said Mr. Thompson this afternoon. "The wind is from the south now, and if it is the same from here to St. Louis, the chances are excellent."

The government sent out a dispatch this afternoon, giving the route expected to be taken by the balloonists into Canada.

It is upon the turning point and a strong wind that the chances of La Crosse for seeing the balloons depends. If the wind dies down, or is in a different direction near Dubuque, Ia., La Crosse will probably lose the opportunity of seeing the race.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—The balloonists entered in the international race expect to land in Canada. The aeronauts arrived at this opinion after reading the government's special balloon forecast. Up the Mississippi as far as the Wisconsin line, then northeast across Lake Michigan to

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The government took another step today in its warfare against the trusts by attaching, under orders from Attorney General Bonaparte, a $7,000 shipment of leaf tobacco consigned from Durham, N. C., to the British-American Tobacco company of Great Britain. The shipment was attached at Norfolk, the action being taken under section 6 of the Sherman anti-trust law, which authorizes the seizure and condemnation by the government of the property of any trust while in interstate or foreign commerce.

CZAR'S HAND FALLS ON CHICAGO MAN

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—William English Walling, his wife, and his sister-in-law, Miss Rose Strunsky, were arrested here Sunday night by a force of gendarmes who surprised them while at dinner at the Hotel de France in company with a party of Finns. Walling had just returned to St. Petersburg from the socialist congresses in Germany and France. He had also spent several months in Geneva, where he frequented the headquarters of the Russian revolutionists with whom he is intimate.

Walling sent a cablegram requesting that government pressure be brought to bear on the American embassy at St. Petersburg for assistance.

Mr. Walling, who is a Chicago man, was arrested in the Russian capital in January, 1906, because of his alleged interest in the revolutionary movement, but was released soon afterwards.

FISH WINS FIGHT FOR I. C. CONTROL

POSTPONEMENT OF MEETING TO
DEC. 5 MEANS VICTORY

HARRIMAN DOES NOT TALK

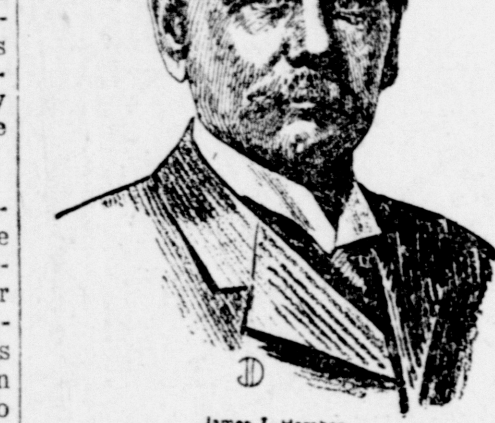

Is Grumpy to Reporters and Says He
Has "Lost Interest" in the
I. C. Conflict.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Counsel for Harriman today formally admitted the defeat of their plans to control the annual stockholders meeting of the Illinois Central without the aid of the stock tied up by injunction. At a meeting lasting until 11 o'clock this morning counsel representing both sides signed an agreement by which the stockholders meeting was postponed until Dec. 18. This will mean a temporary and possibly an ultimate victory for Fish, as Fish claims to control the majority of the enjoined shares. The fight now goes to the courts.

Harriman "Lost Interest."
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Telegrams received by friends of Stuyvesant Fish today say his control of the proxies for the control of the Illinois Central is now assured.

Harriman, who returned here over the New York Central yesterday, when asked for his opinion of the Illinois Central fight, said:

"I have lost interest in it."
The reporter remarked that the dispatches from the seat of war

Harriman's president of the Illinois Central who will likely be deposited in the probable event of Fish wresting the control from Harriman.

placed Mr. Fish 38,000 or 40,000 votes in the lead. Then Mr. Harriman said:

"I never had much interest in it any way."
"Do you think that the result will depend upon the decision of the courts as to the right of the Union Pacific and Mutual Life Insurance company to vote their large blocks of the stock?"

"I suppose so," said Mr. Harriman, and then he added:

"You know a great deal more about it than I do anyway."

COMMITTEE TO VIEW PROPERTY

On Wednesday morning, the assessments committee of the county board of supervisors, accompanied by Supervisor of Assessments J. E. Keizer, will leave La Crosse on an inspection trip about the county.

The assessments committee consists of John Kindley, chairman; Bert Nelson, Ray Lewis, Peter Lehnen and William Wolfe.

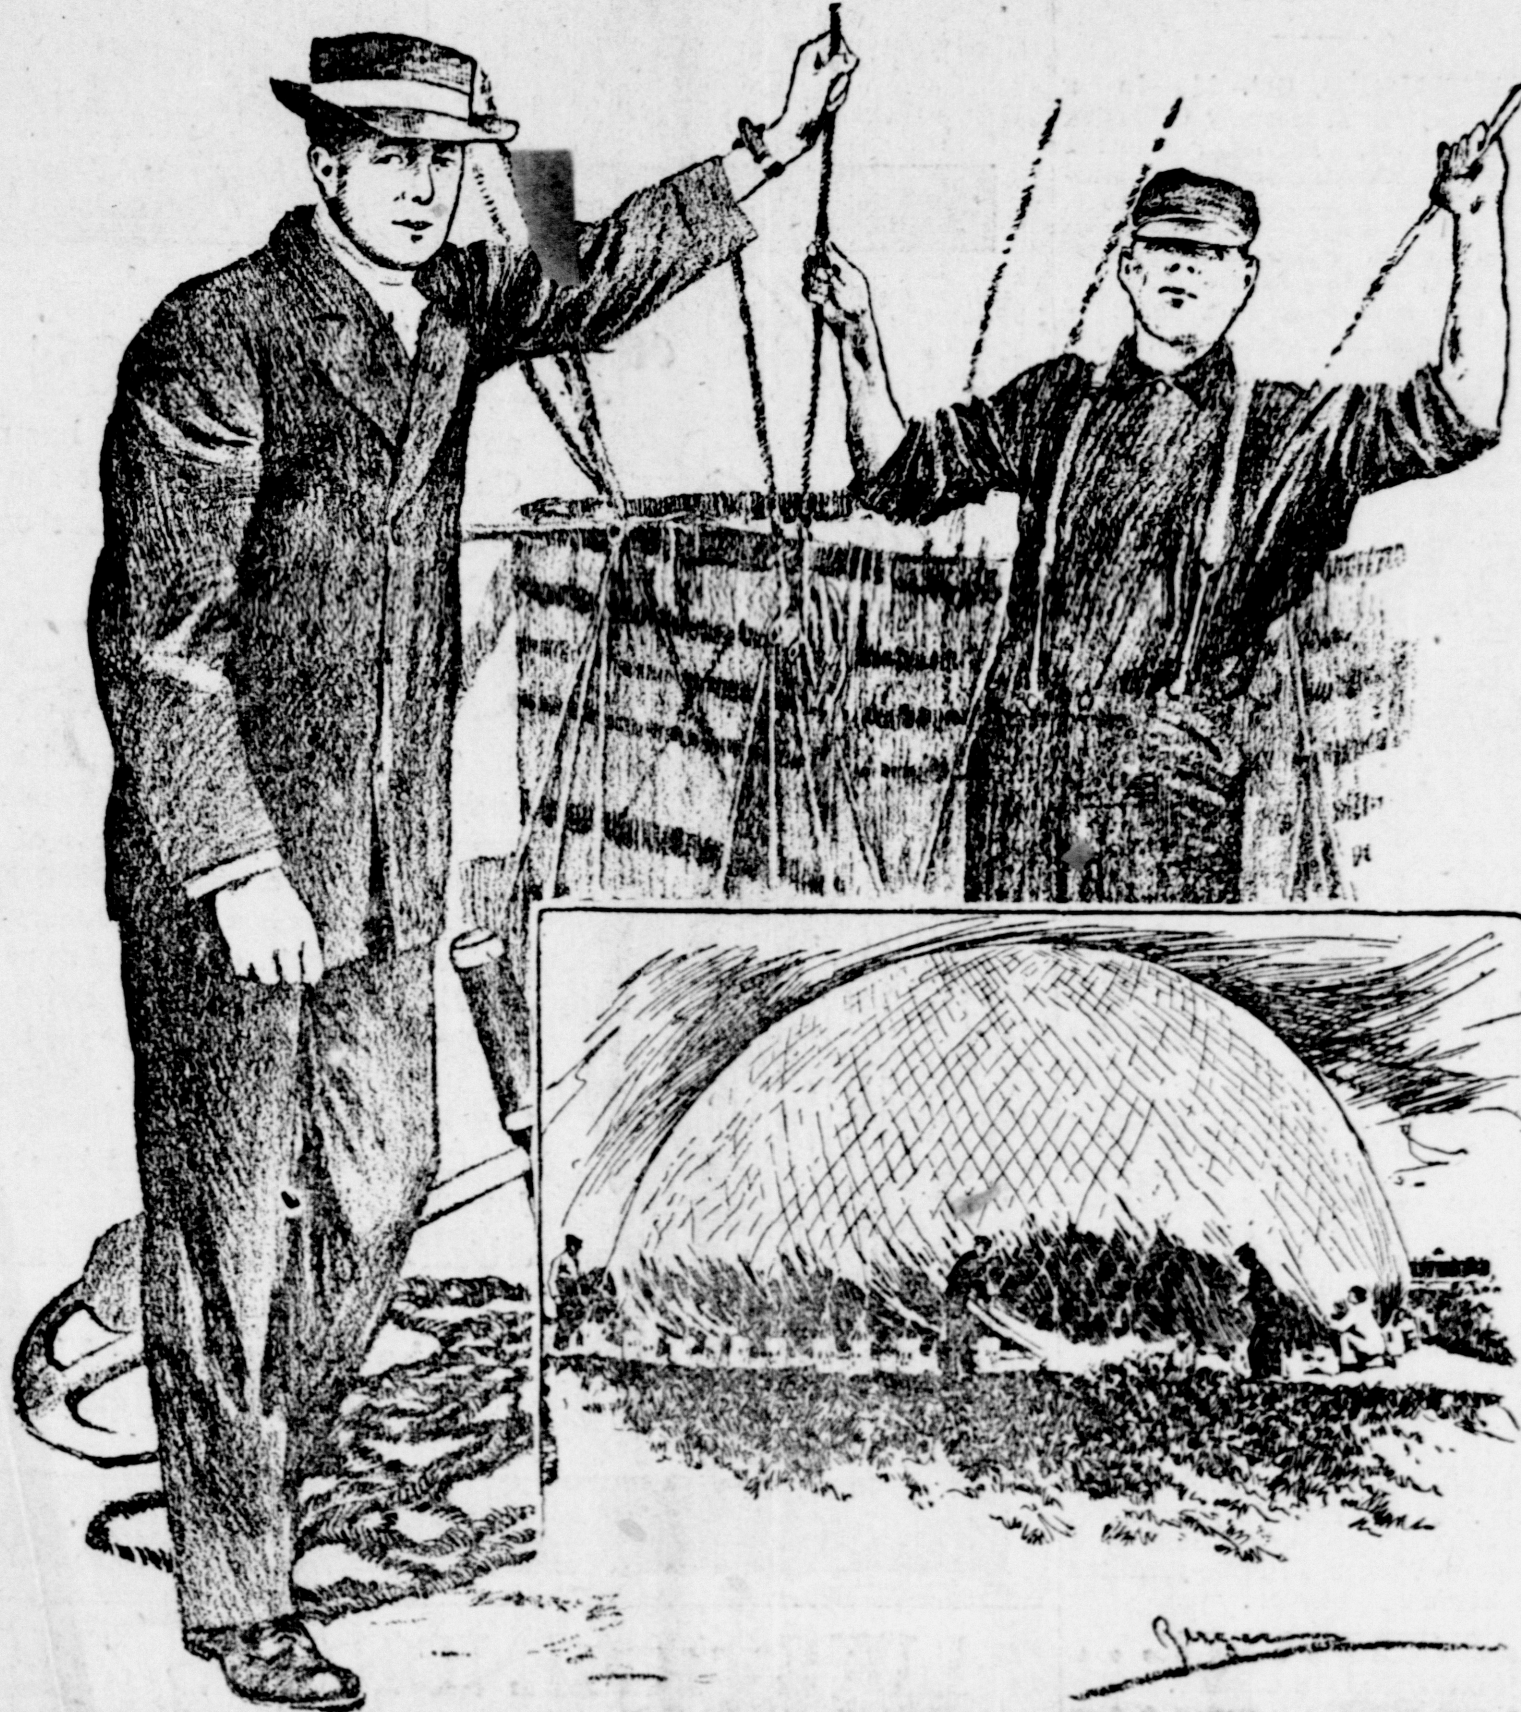

The committee will inspect various pieces of property, skipping here and there to determine the basis used by the assessors in their work, and also to determine if an equitable value has been placed on the property.

It is expected three or four days will be consumed in the trip. Later another may be made.

A report on the findings of the committee will be made to the county board at the meeting on Nov. 12.

LA CROSSE MAY SEE THIS BALLOON

CAPTAIN CHARLES DE F. CHANDLER AND THE ST. LOUIS BALLOON RACE.

THE United States army is much interested in the outcome of the international balloon race in St. Louis for the Bennett cup because of the fact that it has two entries, Major H. B. Hersey and Captain Charles De Forest Chandler, whose respective balloons are the United States, in which Lieutenant F. P. Lahm, U. S. A., won the James Gordon Bennett cup in Paris a year ago, and the America. The third American balloon is the St. Louis, piloted by Alan R. Hawley. Germany, England and France entered balloons for the $2,500 Bennett cup, which is for the longest flight and which must be won five times by one country before it becomes the country's property. Lieutenant Lahm covered 402 miles when he captured the trophy.

TREMPEALEAU OUT FOR SENATORSHIP

OLD BURNING QUESTION

STRONG FOR JOHN J. ESCH

But People Think They Should Get
Toga in Return for Loyalty.

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—What will Trempealeau county do about that state senatorship? That is a question that is going the rounds of the politicians, and while it is generally conceded that Trempealeau county will have very little to say about the disposition of the senatorship if La Crosse county desires the honor, the fact that the smaller county has a voice in the matter makes the choosing of a senator worthy of consideration. When the old convention system was in vogue, Trempealeau county had a voice in the matter only by the good grace of the powers that be (or were) in the larger county, and it is pretty much the same now, only there is a chance in the selection now in the popular vote of a primary scrimmage. With one candidate in this county and a dozen in La Crosse county, a favorite son up in this neck of the woods might

NO BEARS IN THE CANEBRAKES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The horrifying charge is made by a southern congressman that President Roosevelt's bear hunt in the Louisiana canebrakes is the most stupendous and glaring piece of "nature-faking" that has been indulged in by even the worst of the type whom the president has denounced.

This southern authority affirms that there are no bears in Louisiana; that there have not been there for 100 years; that what the president is doing is a hoax and that he has really object during the present hunt, is simply a very large type of very dark brown coon, known only to the canebrakes of that region of the south.

of How Executive Shot
Bruin Is Told.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt has accepted an invitation from J. L. Alexander to be his guest at Oxway Inn, Sapphire county, and hunt bear in the Blue Ridge mountains. No date has been fixed. Dolph Wilson, who has a record of killing nineteen bears, will probably be the guide.

At Vicksburg.
VICKSBURG, Oct. 21.—When President Roosevelt arrived here today the city was bright and gay in his honor. The principal streets were a mass of color and pictures of the president were to be seen on all sides. The president arrived at Delta, directly across the river from Vicksburg, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. He was met by a reception committee of 100 citizens on board the steamboat Belle of the Bends. A drive over the city and through the National cemetery ended at the court house square, where President Roosevelt delivered an address.

All morning crowds of excursionists swarmed to the city to join in the welcome to the president. The river trip was picturesque and the president was delighted with the drive about the city.

The president will leave on a special on the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, going direct to Memphis, where he will be transferred to the Louisville and Nashville railroad. The president is scheduled to arrive in Memphis at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

It is said that the president was very pleased when being told by Guide Mercantile that his party had killed three-fifths of all the bears in the Bayou Tensas and Bear Lake region. There were five bears in the section. Three of them were brought in as trophies of the case.

President Roosevelt thus summed up his trip.

ELKINS LAW MAY BE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

OIL TRUST WILL TAKE LANDS
DECISION TO COURT

SIMS PREPARING HIS ANSWER

If Law Is Declared Unconstitutional
All Fines Must Be Returned by
the Government

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—United States Attorney Sims is preparing today a reply to the bills of exceptions filed by Standard Oil in the case in which the Standard was fined 29 million dollars. Nearly one hundred and fifty assignments of error have been made by the defendants. The latest date for filing is Dec. 2. Attorney Miller, for the oil trust, informed Sims that if the appeal to the circuit court is defeated he will take the case before the state supreme court on constitutional questions. If the latter plan is carried out, and the points raised are sustained, the Elkins law may be invalidated. In that case the government will be forced to return all the fines that have been collected under it.

ST. PAUL MEETS BIG LOSS IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—One of the most important buildings of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul shops at West Milwaukee, the large planing mill upon which all other shops depend, was destroyed by fire last night. About 150 men worked in the mill, the loss of which comes at a time when a car shortage has been taxing its capacity to the utmost. The loss of the building itself is the smallest item.

The loss, including $30,000 worth of tools belonging to employees, will amount to $125,000. The company carries its own insurance.

BECKWITH GOES SOUTH

Commissioner H. J. Beckwith of the board of public works, left this evening for Burlington, where he will visit for a few days with relatives, after which he will go to St. Louis and return via Pittsburg, Kan., where he will also remain for a few days en route.

DELEGATION JOINS WATERWAY CROWD

SPECIAL COACH HITCHED TO
MIDNIGHT BURLINGTON

KELLER EXPECTS PROGRESS

Says Organization is not Perfect Yet,
But When Inland People Are Interested Result Will Be Easier

Delegates to the Waterways convention at Moline, which opens a two-days' session tomorrow morning, will leave here at midnight tonight on the Burlington. The local delegates are Aldermen G. A. Keller, Houska and Fred Goddard. H. J. Hirschheimer, one of the delegates being unable to attend and being substituted by Mr. Goddard.

There will be two special sleepers attached to the limited tonight which will convey the delegates between Minneapolis and down river points to Moline and the La Crosse representatives will join the party here.

Nothing Definite Yet.

"Most of the time will be taken up with a discussion of ways and means," "I suppose," said Delegate Keller today. "The organization is not perfect yet and there may be no great results accomplished this time, but I believe that within a couple of years this organization will be in a position to demand things and have them done."

"It takes money to conduct a lobby at Washington, and this money is one of the things which the convention is now ready to face. Little can be accomplished unless there is someone right on the ground, and the river supporters must have a man right at the national capital.

"However," continued the alderman, "I believe the real success in the future depends upon interesting the inland voters in the improvement of the river. It is all right for the river towns to howl but we want the people inland who are directly affected by the river and its lowering power on freight rates. They should demand action of their congressmen and say 'vote for the river, or we don't vote for you.' Then we'd get something done. The inland towns and communities have as much at stake in this fight as the river towns."

"The present trouble with the work is," said the alderman, "that we go to a convention. Everyone is enthusiastic and shouts for the river, but when the convention is over the delegates return to their homes and resume their daily grind, and the only ones who remember there was a river convention are the officers of the association, and, alone, they are able to do but little."

Alderman Keller expressed the opinion that the La Crosse delegates would leave for the return trip Wednesday night. Although the Moline officials would undoubtedly have something in the way of entertainment prepared Mr. Keller said that he, for one, wanted to get back to business as soon as possible.

WIFE OF CHARITY WORKER IS DEAD

Early Sunday morning Mrs. W. W. Jones, 222 South Tenth street, one of the pioneer women of the city, died of heart failure. She was the widow of W. W. Jones, former superintendent of the associated charities here, and was a well known pioneer woman of La Crosse.

Mrs. Jones had been out to dinner on Saturday and feeling well apparently. Sunday morning others in the house heard her rapping on the floor of her room with a cane she kept for the purpose, and going to her found her gasping for breath. A physician was summoned, but she died within a few moments.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the Congregational church of which she was a member.

HEINZE COMPANY GOES TO RECEIVER

FINANCIAL CRISIS IS PAST

Heinze's Betrayal Said to Have Been Caught in Wreck He
Precipitated

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed today against Otto C. and Arthur Heinze, and Max Schultze, partners in Otto's firm, by H. H. Robotham, Leo Wise and Frank A. Larnabee, assignees respectively for the firms of Gross & Kleeburg, E. V. Brokaw, Herzfeld & Stern. Their claims aggregate $325,000.

Ten million dollars was pledged Sunday by twenty banks representing one billion two hundred and fifty million dollars, to aid the financial institutions that are in trouble due to the Heinze crash.

The panic cloud which loomed large and exceedingly dark over the financial district Saturday and which gave tens of thousands of depositors a nervous Sunday, was dissipated by a statement of not more than 100 words which was issued with the authority of the entire clearing house committee.

"We have found the banks under criticism to be solvent," declare the clearing house committeemen, and the reason for disastrous runs is removed.

"We have decided to render them assistance to meet their deposits," is the still further declaration, which assures the banks weathering any storm.

The three banks which have been particularly examined by the clearing house committee and found in every way solvent are:

The Mercantile National bank.
The National Bank of America.
The New Amsterdam bank, Thirty-ninth street and Broadway.

New President for Mercantile.
The Mercantile National bank accepted the resignation of F. Augustus Heinze as president, and Seth M.

160 ACRES BRING $7,000 TODAY

Seven thousand dollars was paid today for a tract of 160 acres of land located in the town of Onalaska.

The land has been owned by Wesley F. Whitbeck, who sold it to John and William Coady. A transfer was to have been made which would comprise a tract over 1200 acres that size, but the parties finally concluded to buy but 160 acres.

The land is some of the best in this section of the county and was therefore sold at a good price. The deed was filed by Esch and Winter today.

RECEPTION TO END THEIR HONEYMOON

FRIENDS PLAN SURPRISE FOR MR. AND MRS. SCARSETH

CALESVILLE HIGHS DEFEATED

Lose Contest With Arcadia Saturday; Ettrick Phone Company Enters City of Galesville

GALESVILLE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Ingvald B. Scarseth have gone to Chicago, where they will spend a week sight-seeing during their honeymoon. As has already been announced in The Tribune, the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Scarseth occurred last week and the festivities at the home of the bride's parents in French Creek was the event of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Scarseth will return Thursday, and on that evening a reception will be tendered them at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Scarseth, in this city. More than one hundred invitations have been issued and the number of guests will exceed two hundred.

The bride and groom are numbered with the very popular young people in this section of the county. Mrs. Scarseth was prior to her marriage a teacher in Gale college. She was a leader in the social work of the school and her circle of friends and acquaintances was large. The groom is a Galesville boy, born and bred. Not only is he a grand good fellow, but for the past five seasons he was the crack infielder of the Galesville baseball team. Mr. and Mrs. Scarseth will take up their residence on Ridge street, where they will be at home to their many friends after Thursday.

Light Weights Slaughtered

The Galesville High school football team was slaughtered Saturday at Arcadia in a game with the High school of that town. The score at the finish was 83 to 0 in favor of the Arcadians. The awful score was not due so much to the superior play of the up country lads as to the disparity of weight. The local team this year is a way short on avoirdupois, and while the boys are game and put up a snappy fight, they are not equal to forces which bear down upon them. Their play is equal to that of any other eleven in the county.

Farmers' Phone Enters Town

The Ettrick Telephone company has extended its lines to Galesville and a local exchange is now being established. This will give Galesville to telephone systems besides the long distance wire. The Western Wisconsin company has been established in the city for more than ten years and gives the best of service, furnishing subscribers connection with every village in the county and farmers along the line, together with service to La Crosse, Winona, Melrose and North Bend and one local rate. The Ettrick company is a continuation of the farmers' phone, which operates extensively in this county, each township having an individual company, daily incorporated. Its subscribers are largely farmers living in districts not covered by the other system, although in many instances the lines are parallel. The local exchange in Galesville will be located in the Grover block, with Miss Alma Herberg in charge.

POTATOES ADVANCE 10 CTS.

Are Now Selling at 60 Cents per Bushel, While Cooking Apples go From 30 to 40 Cents

Potatoes advanced 10 cents per bushel today, and are selling at 60 cents per bushel. Eating apples took a small advance today, selling at 30 to 40 cents per peck. Turnips are now on the local markets and are selling at 15 cents per peck.
According to the Egerton Tobacco reporter conditions for curing the shedded crop are more favorable at this writing than at any time since it was housed. The early harvest is making a fine showing and the moist weather followed by warm days gives promise of helping out a large measure of late cuttings.

The benefit ball given in the opera house Friday evening by Modahl's orchestra was well attended. This was the first appearance of the orchestra since its re-organization and the dancing public was agreeably surprised. The music was fine and the company enjoyed the time until an early hour the following number. Prof. Modahl is receiving many compliments and no doubt another party will be given at an early date.
The J. G. T. club gave Miss Cora Shorrock a surprise Saturday evening and the ladies were royally entertained at that young lady's East-side home.

CENSORSHIP IN RUSSIA.

Forging Seals on Letters and Replacing Stamps.

The modus operandi of the political postal censorship, which has for some time past been unusually active in its scrutiny of private correspondence, has not materially changed since the time when the nihilist propaganda first aroused its energies.
The boiling kettle and steam vapor application are still in vogue, except where the intercepted letter bears a wax seal or seals. To open and re-close a sealed letter without leaving any easily noticeable traces of it having been tampered with is a process requiring some little delicacy of manipulation on the part of the inquisitor.
A thin, sharply edged steel blade beated just to the requisite degree to pass under and remove the seal intact is used, but if this is done clumsily, writes the Odessa correspondent of the London Standard, then, unless the letter be appropriated or destroyed, a new seal must be made. This is effected by taking a mold of the seal with a substance whose chief ingredient is gypsum and the elaborate appliances of the cabinet maker quickly furnish from the mold a new seal of the same kind of wax practically indistinguishable from the old one. It is customary in this country to attach the postage on a letter as a wafer instead of a seal—that is, the postage is placed on the reverse side of the envelope, covering the point of the joining flap.

This almost invariable custom renders the application of the steam kettle a comparatively easy matter, and if the postage be occasionally destroyed it is readily replaced by new postage of the same denomination, and the obliterating stamp of the place of origin is again applied. A suspect letter may be opened at the postoffice of its destination, but that is of no consequence, as every branch cabinet now possesses obliterating stamps for every city and town in the empire, and should the intercepted epistle be of foreign origin the expert officials can very rapidly prepare a perfect counterfeit of the obliterating stamp.

A different process, and a very simple one, is employed when the cover of the arrested letter is of stout texture, such as the official stationery commonly used in the diplomatic and other official services, and is sealed. The upper or lower or one of the end folds of the letter is carefully cut with a narrow and extremely sharp paper knife, and the slit fold is rejoined with a special kind of very fine and strongly adhesive cement, which is of various colors to match the particular shade of envelope operated upon. The natural crease in the fold of very thick paper greatly assists the success of this process.

It was first publicly revealed some twenty years ago through a curious blunder on the part of a postal inquisitor in St. Petersburg. A member of the clerical staff at the Quai d'Orsay had written a private letter on official paper to a friend in the French legation in the Russian capital. The envelope bore three seals and was apparently intact when delivered.
On opening the letter the recipient was astonished to find enclosed a Russian translation of the same in pencil script. The postal inquisitor had inadvertently inclosed his Russian transcript. The indignant receiver made a very strong protest in the proper quarter, and six weeks later he was politely informed that the "erring official" had been severely reprimanded and that there would be no repetition of the irregularity.

Got It Overboard.
Once while in a foreign port Admiral Dewey ordered the heaviest hoisting tackle in the ship to be got out of the hold without delay. Nobody knew what it was for, as there was nothing just at that time, either heavy or light, to be taken on board or sent ashore. After two hours' hard work the tackle was in place, and Dewey then ordered that a large chew of tobacco which had been thrown under one of the guns be hoisted overboard and dumped into the sea.

JUDGE ADVOCATES THE WHIPPING POST

SAYS SEM SHOULD BE LASHED FOR HIS ERRORS

GIVE SIXTY DAYS IN JAIL

Pitiful Story Told of How One Armed Wife Slaves in Hot Kitchen While Husbands Soaks Booze

The whipping post, as a punishment for habitual drunkards and men who refuse to support their families—more particularly Ole Sem, 938 Johnson street, classed as the worst drunkard in La Crosse, was advocated by Judge Brindley in county court this morning, when he sentenced Sem to the county jail for sixty days in a charge of drunkenness. Sem has spent the money he earns and is capable of earning, $5 per day, for drink and repeatedly has refused to support his family.
Judge Brindley was unwilling to sentence Sem to jail, to enjoy imprisonment, as the court termed it, provided some other punishment might be found. The judge classed the county jail as a "treat" for Sem, a place where he might loaf to his heart's content, receive three full meals each day, and have a warm berth.

The county jail is no place for this man," said Judge Brindley in his charge to the prisoner. "I am in favor of the whipping post for men of this class, and for you particularly."
"This man would make a good candidate for the whipping post, and I believe several lashes across his back would make him remember his family's needs for good whiskey. This man ought to be taken out and whipped, whipped thoroughly."
"The county jail is no place for him," continued Judge Brindley, as he waxed warm, after the pitiable story of the suffering of the Sem family had been told. "There you will have meals, a warm bed and warm place to stay. If laws or a scheme could be provided for men of this stripe where they would be compelled to work during incarcerations, and their families, now the sufferers, receive the money, some exceedingly long sentences would be imposed by this court on a certain class of offenders."

"In one way the jail will do this man good. I believe this class has little thought of the family bonds, but if he he will remember them because a good opportunity for the booze to soak out of him will be given. A man who will go to bed with his boots and clothes on has little moral decency."
Then the sentence was pronounced. Sem probably is the worst offender ever arraigned in county court on a minor charge. He has been on a spree for the last three weeks, and during that time has not changed clothes once, or even taken off those he had on. When drunk, Sem crawls into bed with boots, clothes, jag and everything else aboard, to slumber peacefully, while his wife tries to eke out a living bent over the wash tub. Mrs. Sem has lost the use of one arm, washing to support herself and five children. Part of the money she has earned with her left arm has been taken by Sem to buy drinks. He admitted this charge during the trial this morning, but declared he bought a "can" of beer, and not whiskey with the money.

Whiskey caused the undoing of Sem; love for her children, her husband and willingness to work has caused the health of Mrs. Sem to be undermined, until she is a frail, weak woman today. In a hot kitchen, floor, ceiling and walls steaming, she has labored for the family.

Sem is a bricklayer and mason, capable of earning fifty-five cents an hour each day during the summer, and his services are in demand by contractors throughout the city. He is classed as an expert workman. The money he earns when working—he is known to have worked—is spent in drink. Not until the last cent is gone, does he think of returning home.

The family has six children, the oldest 14 years of age, and afflicted with St. Vitus dance, while the youngest is a baby, under the age of a year. Two children have whooping cough, but this did not deter the father from getting drunk Saturday, when he was arrested on complaint of Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick. This morning Commissioner Burdick testified that it was the first time he ever saw the defendant sober.

P. M. Brink, one of the quiet workers in the city, reported the case to the county authorities and appeared as a witness today. Mrs. Sem and children will be cared for by the county and charitable institutions during the confinement of Sem.

Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off scores and speaking his mind without any fear of any unpleasant consequences to himself. The great Duke of Monmouth evidently could not resist the temptation of a farewell "slap" at his duchess when he left her "£10,000 wherewith to spoil Blenheim in her own way, and £15,000 to keep clean and go to law with." There is also a distinct note of spitefulness in this extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr, who, after declaring that he would probably have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his evening paper in peace, adds, "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing and singing. You must therefore take the consequences. I leave you £1,000."—London Chronicle.

A SERIOUS LAUGH.

The Penalty of Mirth at an Ancient Church Celebration.

There was a church celebration of a rather exciting nature many years ago in Lynn, Mass. The occurrences marking the dedication of the Old Tunnel Meeting house in 1682 are recorded by an eyewitness and quoted in Obadiah Oldpath's "Lin." After the formal ceremony of dedication a feast was held.
He dinner was in ye grete barn of Mr. Hood. While we were at table a rooster flew to ye beam over our heads. Mr. Richardson, ye Newbury minister, in a very loud voice and stately mien proclaimed that the ye house was a noble temple it yet was but a fit casket for ye godly jewel of Lin. Whereupon a most lusty crow was set up by ye old cock on ye beam, and he flapped his wings, sending ye dust down on to ye table.
Ye companie hurled apples at ye misbehaving fowle, but, not being of good aim, did not hit, and with a whirling noise it flew to ye ground as if in disgust.
Mr. Gerrish was in a merrie mood. Not having his thots about him, he endeavored ye dangerous performance of gaping and laughing at ye same time. In doing so he set his jaws open in such a wise that it was beyond his power to bring them back again. His agonie was very grete, and his joyful laugh was soon turned to grievous growling.
We did our utmost to stay the anguish of Mr. Gerrish, but could make out but little till Mr. Rogers, who knoweth something of anatomy, did bid ye sufferer to sit down on ye floor and, taking his head between his legs, turning ye face upward as much as possible, gave a powerful blow and sudden press, which brought ye jaws again into working order. But Mr. Gerrish did not gape nor laugh much more, neither did he talk much for that matter.

BADGER EXPOSES STEAL OF MILLIONS

STOPS SALE OF WORTHLESS
MINING PROPERTY

THOUSANDS SPENT IN FRAUD

Promoters Had Salted Claim; Western Capitalists Save Small Investments from Heavy Losses

NEW RICHMOND, Wis., Oct. 21.—To a Wisconsin man—Charles Donohue of New Richmond—is given the credit of ferreting out, runding down and exposing one of the biggest scandals in the history of mining in the northwest. It was a plot that ran up in the millions and billions in its scope. Had it been carried out Montana and Washington investors would have been lured for over $750,000, and up to the time of Mr. Donohue's examination of the property they stood not only ready but anxious to put $1,000,000 more into the property.

Salted of Wyoming Mine.
Western papers have lately been full of almost unbelievable tales of the "salting" of a mining property in southwestern Wyoming, at the terminus of the Chicago and North-western railroad. The work is alleged to have been done on a most elaborate scale by experts and it was variously estimated to have cost from $10,000 to $100,000, for in the salting process numerous shafts and drill holes had been sunk and a lot of expensive work done. The scheme undoubtedly would have succeeded but for the work done jointly by Mr. Donohue of this city, and R. K. Neill of Spokane, who is a practical hard rock miner.

Will Refund Price Paid Them.
A feature of the case that is quite unusual in the mining game is the action of Messrs Thomas L. Greenough of Missoula, Mont., and J. B. Greenough of Spokane, Wash., the promoters of the venture, men of wealth, who, though not legally bound to do so, will repurchase all the stock bought at their recommendation at the price paid. This action on the part of the Greenoughs will save small investors who stood to lose their all in the bogus venture.

RACINE COLLEGE LEAD IN DOUBT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—It cannot be ascertained whether the election of Dr. Henry Dean Robinson, warden of Racine college grammar school, Racine, Wis., as bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church will necessitate his resignation as head of the college or not. Bishop William Walter Webb, president of the college, cannot be seen, and others in authority declare they cannot say. Rev. Mr. Robinson will not return to Racine until Saturday, Oct. 26.

CHURCH OBSERVES ITS ANNIVERSARY

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—St. Mary's Catholic church, today began a two-day celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of its founding. St. Mary's church is the oldest in Milwaukee and is known as the mother church of all German congregations in the city. King Ludwig I of Bavaria honored St. Mary's in 1878 by presenting the church with a beautiful altar painting.

BADGER SHERIFF CAPTURES YEGGS

SUPPOSED HILBERT ROBBERS
NOW IN JAIL

INDULGE IN A GUN FIGHT

Band Refuses to Surrender, Surprised When Asleep; Four Men and Booty Are Taken.

MANITOWOC, Wis., Oct. 21.—Four men believed to be the professional cracksmen implicated in the Hilbert station robbery were captured by Sheriff George Lambries and Deputies Robert Puls, Fred Guse and Max Woellert shortly after midnight Sunday morning after a revolver fight in which one was injured although one deputy had a hole through his hat.

The capture was made in an old barn near Centerville, twelve miles south of this city. Three of the men gave their names but a fourth, supposed to be the gang's leader, refused. They are Jim Schiller, Jack Hopkins and Peter Busch. The men are held here to await the arrival of officers for Calumet county for identification.

In the possession of the men was found much merchandise tallying with that stolen from the Hilbert hardware store and the John Grub company, including revolvers, rifles, cartridges, knives, razors, watches, and $70 in money. The men had a complete burglar's kit, nitro-glycerine, dynamite caps, fuses, gunpowder, skeleton keys, nippers, chisels and other tools.

The men made capture inevitable when at Cleveland, south of the city, they offered the booty for sale. The sheriff was notified and he and his deputies traced the men to an old barn and surprised the gang while asleep. A fight ensued before capture. The men having sleet with weapons handy. The black-bearded leader who refused to give his name fought desperately.

In the outfit of the gang was a map of the state, with routes traced in pencil. One prisoner admitted that the party formerly included nine, but had split.

CARLOAD OF COAL IS BUTTER PRIZE

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—A carload of anthracite coal, delivered freight prepaid, will be one of the premiums for cheese at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Cheesemakers' convention in January. U. S. Baer of Madison, secretary, has been making arrangements here and expects a large attendance.

FATHER SEARCHES FOR LOST DAUGHTER

HURLEY, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Heart sore and nearly distracted, Andrew Mattson, a resident of Pence, Wis., up to 1893, is here again to find his long-lost daughter. When Mr. Mattson left Pence in 1893, following the death of his wife, one of the two infant daughters was adopted by a family named Tertio at Pence. The other was taken by a family here the name of which Mr. Mattson cannot learn. This daughter is lost to him, and the father is making a search of every town in this belt. He now resides in the far Canadian northwest.

A GOOD MIXTURE FOR OLD FOLKS

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple, and can be made up by anyone at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is: Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Kargon, one ounce compound syrup of sarsaparilla, three ounces.
Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is said to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, frequent urination, pain and scalding, weakness and backache, pain above the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It cleanses these sponge-like organs and gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles. The extract dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleans and enriches the blood.

As you or anyone of your family, especially the old folks, may be attacked at any time it would be wise to cut this out and save it. A well-known local druggist is authorized that this prescription is safe to use at any time.
Mix it yourself.

HUDSON IS VISITED BY GLOBE TROTTER

HUDSON, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—An interesting figure passed through Hudson—Frank Emanuel Kiekas of San Francisco, who is returning from a walking trip around the world on a wager. Kiekas says he left Frisco on Feb. 14, 1904, and must be back on Feb. 14, 1909, to win $5,000 in cash and a deed to 160 acres of land in California. He has already traveled 37,000 miles. He tells harrowing tales on his trip through northern Asia.

ALUMNI TO RE-UNITE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—One of the features of the annual convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' association, which meets here on Nov. 7, 8 and 9 will be a re-union of alumni of Lawrence university, Appleton. The state university alumni, as usual, hold a re-union. The Lawrence graduates now teaching, will have a banquet at 6:30 Thursday evening. It is expected that about 125 will be present.

STATE IN BRIEF

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Because they issued a saloon license to George Lyntz, after limiting the number of saloons in the city, the entire council will be sued by Charles M. Fletcher by a writ of certiorari.

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis.—Many of the farmers in the town of Sigel have formed an anti-wolf organization, whose aim is to rid the town of the pest, which is killing their sheep and keeping them awake at night. A wolf hunt will be organized, and it is expected that practically all of the men will participate.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis.—The boiler-makers on this division of the Omaha, located in the shops at Altoona, have gone on a strike. They were getting 38 cents an hour, but struck for 45. The company offered to compromise on a basis of 41 1/2 cents an hour, which the boiler-makers refused.

MANITOWOC, Wis.—City and state officials will enforce all laws relating to safeguarding of property against fires and a campaign is to be opened which will mean many changes in the city. The state factory inspector and fire marshal's departments will aid Fire Chief Kratz, and orders will be issued for fire escapes on all public buildings and other precautions.

MADISON, Wis.—State Insurance Commissioner Beedle has written the Pacific Mutual Insurance company of Los Angeles, Cal., as follows: "I have your valued communication of the 7th inst., relative to your participating policies containing a total and permanent disability feature, and after due deliberation, have decided that it is not permissible under the Wisconsin laws, and hereby notify you that policies written by your company in this state must not incorporate therein said disability clause."

APPLETON, Wis.—A decision of the supreme court settled 2102 cases that number of actions being included in one case in which Henry Miller, a farmer of Outagamie county is complainant against the Northwestern railway company. Miller was suing for the sum of $10 per engine for every engine that passed over the company's tracks, which cross his land, after a certain date a year ago when the company was notified by Miller's attorney to construct a crossing so as to make traffic possible across the tracks on the Miller farm.

A Delicate Hint.

MAN FOUND DEAD; HOW IS QUESTION

DULUTH, Oct. 21.—The mysterious disappearance of Fred Peterson of Two Harbors a year ago has been cleared up, but just how he came to his death may never be known.

The skeleton of a man lying beside the skeleton of a buck deer was found in the woods between the Split Rock and the Gooseberry rivers, and from some articles found in the clothing it is believed that the disappearance of Peterson has been solved. The rifle that Peterson carried has also been identified. The weapon lay near the skeleton.

The mystery now is, how did Peterson get killed? Had he killed the deer and was he packing it out of the woods, and was himself mistaken for a deer and shot? Did Peterson wound the deer whose skeleton lay on the ground, and did the animal attack and kill him? The theory of people who have investigated the case is that the buck, after being wounded, had attacked and slain the hunter.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., Oct. 21.—James Godatte, who is accused of killing Charles Williams near Big Falls, Aug. 21, was arraigned in district court here to answer to the indictment returned by the grand jury, charging him with the crime of murder in the first degree.

Godatte was represented by Charles W. Scrutchin, a colored attorney from Bemidji, who entered a demurrer to the complaint. The demurrer was overruled by Judge Spooner, after which Godatte entered his plea. Godatte answered "Not guilty."

It was decided by County Attorney Stanton, who will conduct the prosecution, and Attorney Scrutchin that the trial be postponed until the January term of court. This was agreed to and so ordered by Judge Spooner.

SCHOOLS FOR CONSULS AND DIPLOMATS.

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)

The address of John Barrett at the University of Pennsylvania was interesting and instructive. This is the only school of preparation for diplomacy in the country, and Mr. Barrett, with abundant means of knowledge, says that there is a great need of proficient young men in diplomacy, and that there are some pretty poor men now in the service. There is a career ahead of those who have the proper equipment. Fortunately, the government has recently taken steps which make the career in many respects inviting. A large proportion of the consular officers are to be appointed from the classified service established by law. The young man begins as a consular clerk and secures the position only after a severe examination. He is entitled to promotion and will probably get it, although some of the places are to be filled by men who have never been in the service at all.

Of course consular and diplomatic functions are generally distinct, but they often merge. A continued service abroad is apt to let the consul get out of touch with his own country, and this is why new blood is to be constantly injected. But, as promotions will be made from consuls to legation secretarieships, and these may lead to higher duties, the prospects of a young man who wants to make diplomacy a profession are better than ever before in our history.

NEW TOWNS IN SOUTH DAKOTA AND NORTH DAKOTA

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Over 100 miles of track have already been laid on the Pacific Coast extension of the railway in South Dakota and North Dakota. Several new towns have also been opened along this new line. Among them is Lemmon, Butte County, South Dakota, 100 miles west of the Missouri River.

The opening sale of lots in the new town of Hettinger, North Dakota, 25 miles farther west, will be held Thursday, October 24, 1907. This new town will be the county seat of Adams County. All lots will be sold by auction.

The opening sale of lots in the new town of Bowman, North Dakota, 150 miles west of the Missouri River, will be held later. This new town will be the county seat of Bowman County.

Regular train service between Moberly, the first station on the extension, and Lemmon, with direct connections from and to Aberdeen, South Dakota, was established October 6.

In each of these towns excellent opportunities are afforded in mercantile or professional work. Why not engage in some business there now, and grow up with these towns?

The territory through which the new line is being built in South Dakota and North Dakota offers exceptional opportunities for those who wish to engage in diversified farming.

"What does your father do to earn his living?" asked a New York principal of a pupil who was being admitted.

"Please, ma'am, he doesn't live with us; mama supports me."

"Well, then, how does your mother earn her living?"

"She gets paid for staying away from papa," replied the child, artlessly.—Harper's Weekly.

"And you saw Muriel?"

"I did."

"Tell me, is she married?"

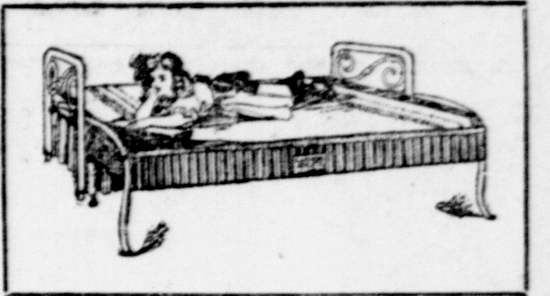

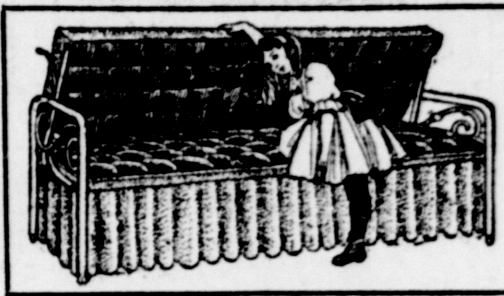

"Yes."

"One more question: Again or yet?"—Washington Herald.

WOMAN'S INVASION OF COLLEGES.

(New York World.)

The president of Tufts college warns the trustees that co-education must be abandoned if the institution is to continue to attract male students. Young men, he says, are showing a decided preference for men's colleges, where they are undisturbed by feminine association. Only by the segregation of the women students in a department of their own, President Hamilton thinks, can the drift away from Tufts be checked and the college of letters prevented from soon becoming a girls' school. The warning is interesting as following by just a year the adoption of the plan of sex segregation at the University of Chicago.

Are college youth becoming fearful of mollycoddling influences at co-educational institutions? At least there were no mollycoddles in the Cornell boat at Poughkeepsie, nor on the Michigan and Wisconsin elevens. Doubtless the main cause is a discontent with the invasion of their ancient domain by women in numbers which threaten soon to reduce the male students to a minority. In ten years the growth of the great co-educational colleges has been phenomenal. Cornell increasing its numbers from 1,800 to 3,399, Michigan adding 1,800 and Wisconsin 1,400. At the University of Chicago the college population almost trebled, advancing from 1,881 to 5,079. Tufts itself jumped from 500 to 1,160. Meantime the strictly women's colleges have grown greatly. Smith, which this year has a freshman class of 500, increasing from 850 to 1,375, and Vassar doubling its numbers. The gain is suggestive when contrasted with the increase of 111 at Williams, 227 at Princeton, 135 at Bowdoin and 21 at Amherst.

THIRD WARD WINS TWO FAST GAMES

In a fast and exciting game of football Saturday the Third ward eleven defeated the Y. M. C. A. eleven on the old high school grounds by the score of 5 to 0.

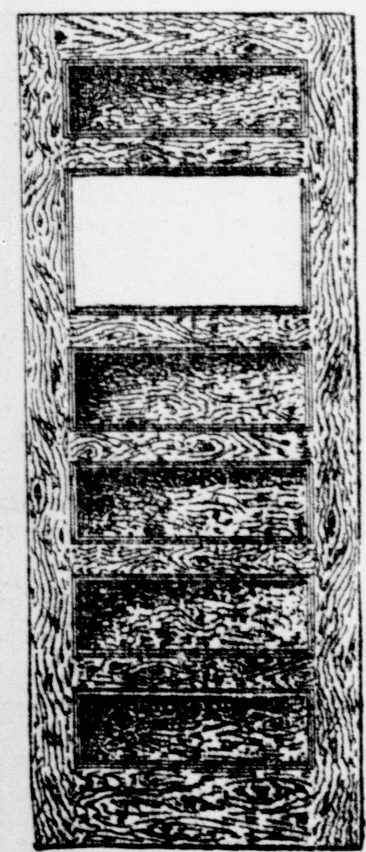

The Third high school team went to West Salem Saturday and played the West Salem High school in the morning defeating them to the tune of 6 to 0.

INTERCOLLEGE GAMES AND SCRAPPING MATCHES

(Brooklyn Citizen.)

It is not the college game, but the intercollegiate game which arouses the emulation that ends in bitter partisanship and gives form to the violence that has come to characterize some games, particularly that of football, to an extent that recently called for its reformation or abolition. Partisanship leads to enmities between those who should be friends and what enmities may lead to has been demonstrated in so many intercollegiate scraps that have passed as games that further description is unnecessary. And this being understood by people of sense everywhere, it is not requisite that we should explain why contests are not generally favored between the men of the army on one side and those of the navy on the other.

"I'm in a get-rich-quick scheme this time sure," said the optimist. "Which end of it?" "I don't understand." "Do you give or receive?"—Philadelphia Ledger.
